ORPHANED NEEDLESSLY?

Seven fawns brought to the Louise A. Boyd Marin Museum of Science by Marin residents in the last two weeks are surviving, but three were unable to adjust and have died. Museum officials, concerned about the large number of supposedly orphaned fawns, have urged Marinites not to capture apparently stray fawns unless there is evidence that the animal's mother is dead. A museum spokesman said that the mothers will often hide when people approach, and will return as soon as the people leave. If you see a stray fawn, "look but don't touch," the spokesman advised. New Teamsters Union Contract Announced

$1.10 An Hour Pay Hike

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Teamsters Union and the Labor Department announced Monday approval by truck drivers of a new national trucking contract that will boost pay $1.10 per hour over 39 months for some 425,000 men.

The union said its members covered by the contract voted approval by a margin of 7-5. Steelhaulers, counted separately, approved the new agreement by a margin of 3-1, the Teamsters said.

The announcement was made by Teamsters Acting President Frank E. Fitzsimmons and Asst. Secretary of Labor William J. Usery. The Labor Department supervised the vote count. The union said more than 71 per cent of the eligible truck drivers cast ballots.

UP IN AIR

The settlement still left up in the air trucking contracts in Chicago, where negotiations were conducted separately and led to strikes and lockouts.

Fitzsimmons had won from the industry negotiating group, Trucking Employers Inc., a stipulation that if any truck company signing the national agreement later grants more to any Teamsters local, the national agreement will be reopened for negotiation of further wage increases.

A few Chicago firms had settled for $1.65 per hour over 39 months, 55 cents more than the national pact.

In addition to the wage hikes over the life of the contract, which is retroactive to last April 1 and extends until July 1, 1972, the agreement includes improved pensions, vacations, holidays, health insurance and cost-of-living pay.

AGREEMENT'S VALUE

Fitzsimmons said the agreement was worth a total of $5,070 per man over the life of the contract in straight-time wage increases alone.

"The $5,070 figure does not take into consideration a possible 16-cent increase in cost-of-living, should the cost of living index rise as it did over the last agreement. With the possible 16-cent increase, the minimum hourly rate could go as high as $5.20" the union said.

City truck drivers before the new agreement averaged about $4 per hour.

Fitzsimmons said long distance drivers, paid by the mile, will average $5,720 more over the life of the contract in the mileage pay hike of 2¼ cents.

Fitzsimmons said the agreement was the best national contract ever negotiated with the trucking industry.

"The increases are exactly double what we negotiated three years ago," he said.

The mail ballots were counted over the weekend, two weeks after they were sent out to rank

THREE FACTORS

Why Allied Push Is Slowing Down

By PETER ARNETT

BASE AREA 351, Cambodia (AP) — After spectacular initial results, the lightning allied thrust into Cambodia is rapidly slowing down.

Field commanders cite three factors for this loss of momentum in the three-week-old campaign against a dozen Communist supply bases:

1. Strengthening resistance. North Vietnamese regiments that fled before the massive armored pushes across the border have returned and are launching counterattacks against the American and South Vietnamese troops.

2. The rapidly approaching monsoon that is bringing early morning fog and late afternoon rains. A brigade commander at this base area 100 miles north of Saigon, Col. Carter W. Clarke, said Sunday his operations are sometimes reduced to six hours a day because of the weather.

3. The orders to clean out the enemy supply caches and stockpile the supplies inside South Vietnam.

"We would much rather blow these caches up and move," a senior officer of the U.S. 1st Air Cavalry Division said. "The need to secure these places, then ship the stuff out is slowing us down terribly. The political requirements in this operation are overshadowing the military requirements."

Because of these three factors, field commanders say they have little hope of satisfactorily clearing out the enemy's border sanctuaries by June 30, the time limit imposed by President Nixon.

There is hourly evidence that the North Vietnamese forces have recovered from the initial allied attack. Constant sniper fire and harassment attacks on the South Vietnamese Airborne Division in the Fishhook, one of the first areas hit by the allies, "indicates that the 7th NVA Division has sorted itself out and is counter-sweeping," said one U.S. intelligence officer.

American troops in Base Area 351 are meeting "maximum delaying tactics" from the North Vietnamese 5th Division, according to Col. Clarke.

Snipers are hanging from trees. Rocketeers are hiding in bunkers. Five attacks were made late last week on one U.S. infantry company cleaning out a supply cache.

Whereas early resistance was from rear-guard security forces, the enemy troops fighting now appear to be from regular infantry units, indicating the Communist command is seriously contesting the allied thrusts.

The monsoon weather "is just starting to hurt us," said Col. Clarke. Particularly vulnerable to the fog and the heavy rain clouds are the Air Cavalry Division's "pink" teams of spotter helicopters and gunships spearheading the drive to locate supply caches.

The tiny spotter helicopters fly at tree-top level, seeking movement and other evidence of caches, while the highly powered Cobra gunships hang in the sky 2,000 feet up, waiting to attack. Often in recent days these search missions have to be aborted because of the weather.

Rainstorms are also hampering supply missions. But armored operations in this area do

ROMNEY PLANS TO TURN BACK SOME SALARY

NEW YORK (AP) — George Romney, secreaary of housing and urban developmest, announced that beginning today he is returning one-quarter of his $60,000 salary to the government as his "personal contribution to the battle" against inflation

In a prepared speech at the second annual collective bargaining forum at the Waldorf-Astoria Hotel, Romney said he had "decided to light a candle, regardless of what anyone else may do."

He urged his listeners to join him since it "could have a tangible effect in slowing the wage-cost-price spiral."

Truce In S. Vietnam; Fighting In Cambodia

SAIGON (UPI)—Allied troops began a 24-hour truce in Vietnam for Buddha's birthday today but pressed on inside Cambodia with a new 10,000-man South Vietnamese thrust that claimed 234 guerrillas killed and three towns saved from the Viet Cong.

In Jakarta, a spokesman for South Vietnamese Foreign Minister Tran Van Lam said today South Vietnamese troops have on occasion crossed the border into Laos in pursuit of fleeing Communist units. The statement was an elaboration of Lam's Sunday night statement that South Vietnamese units for years had made shallow penetrations of Laos under the rules of hot pursuit. The spokesman said today this was limited to one or two miles and that the Ho Chi Minh Trail was not attacked.

Communist troops ignoring the Allies' truce attacked a government outpost in the A Shau Valley region of South Vietnam this afternoon but were reported beaten back with nine dead. South Vietnamese losses were not given.

The attack came at 1 p. m, an hour after the truce began with Allied troops curtailing offensive sweeps in Vietnam but remaining on guard since the Viet Cong and North Vietnamese refused to join the standdown, the war's 15th.

U.S. military spokesmen said the Vietname cease-fire would not affect the estimated 50,000 Allied troops in Cambodia, where Communist soldiers were said to have penetrated the town of Tram Khnar 30 miles south of Phnom Henh in heavy fighting.

This was just north of where a column of 300 South Vietnamese tanks, 10,000 government soldiers and an estimated 200 American advisers crossed the border Sunday in the 12th penetration into Cambodia since President Nixon's offensive began 18 days ago.

The drive, the southernmost thrust yet, met heavy resistance in its two-pronged mission—one prong driving westward along Cambodia's Gulf of Thailand coast, the second heading north on Highway 16 toward Phnom Penh.

Field reports said the spearhead going north killed 234 Viet Cong and North Vietnamese

Southern Hawk Hits Cambodia Policy

WASHINGTON (AP) — One-time hawk Sen. Ernest F. Hollings is telling his South Carolina constituents President Nixon erred in sending U.S. troops into Cambodia and may have alienated an entire generation.

At the same time, his Republican colleague, Sen. Strom Thurman, has praised the Nixon decision as an act of courage.

Their conflicting advice to the same, generally conservative constituency is an example of the Senate's great debate over Cambodia.

More than two weeks after U.S. forces entered Cambodia, the initial anger among many senators has increased, along with sarcasm and disbelief.

This is especially true among those such as Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield and senior Republican George D. Aiken who had earlier shown considerable sympathy with President Nixon's efforts to withdraw U.S. troops from Vietnam and wind down the war.

Both have been openly skeptical of Nixon's contention he can bring the entire Cambodian operation off by June 30—a skepticism strengthened by reports that U.S. naval and air forces plus South Vietnamese ground units may continue in Cambodia past that date.

"We were told soon after the operation started that the Parrots Beak had been cleared out of the enemy," Aiken observed one day last week. But, he noted, radio reports that morning told of sharp fighting in the Parrots Beak with 300 North Vietnamese killed.

A little later, Mansfield told reporters he didn't see why the South Vietnamese couldn't take over the whole operation in Cambodia even before June 30. "Vietnamization is going very well," he said caustically. "It's a success."

Mansfield and other senators seeking to restrict presidential authority over fighting in Southeast Asia insist they are doing so as "strict constructionists" of the Constitution, referring to the article reserving the power to declare war to Congress.

That prompted Sen. John C. Stennis, D-Miss., one of the strictest of the strict constructionists involving subjects such as school desegregation, to maintain "the time has long

Many Colleges Close Or Schedule Memorial Rites For Two Students

By U.P. INTERNATIONAL

Several colleges and universities closed or scheduled memorial services today to protest the slaying of two Jackson (Miss.) State College students.

Mostly peaceful demonstrations over the Jackson State deaths and the war in Indochina were held at some campuses Sunday. A few schools remained closed or under the imposed peace of National Guard and police patrols.

At Jackson, an estimated 1,500 persons marched to the campus and planted three wooden crosses on the lawn in front of the women's dormitory where two young Negroes died Friday in police gunfire. The third cross was for Ben Brown, a civil rights worker killed during disturbances near the campus in 1967.

Police contend they fired at students of the mostly black college in Mississippi only after sniper fire. Students claim the officers fired "without justification." At least 15 persons were injured by police bullets.

About 3,000 antiwar protesters converged on Des Moines, Iowa, Sunday in an orderly demonstration. The marchers, many of whom came from campuses across the state, were addressed by Sen. Harold Hughes, D-Iowa, who said, "We are on the way to peace, but every act of violence will hurt our cause."

About 150 students and faculty members gathered at the student center of New York University and heard a student from Jackson State say "one student (at Jackson) bled to death because other students couldn't help him." Charles Beard, a junior at the school, said he was in front of the women' dormitory when the shooting started. The University of Washington in Seattle was closed today in memory of the Jackson State students. Washington State University in Pullman scheduled memorial services and said it was up to individual students and faculty whether to attend or hold classes. In Tacoma, Wash., Pacific Lutheran University canceled final examinations scheduled for this week and encouraged a "national crisis forum" until Wednesday.

The University of Cincinnati Senate, composed of faculty, students and administrators, adopted a "surprise resolution" late Sunday night to ask the school's board that the university be closed for the remainder of the term.

The school, closed after four Kent (Ohio) State University students were killed May 4 during a violent confrontation with National Guardsmen, was scheduled to reopen today. Northern Illinois University President Rhoten A. Smith closed the DeKalb school until

Wilson Calls For British Election

LONDON (AP) — Prime Minister Harold Wilson, bolstered by a surge of strength in recent opinion polls, tonight called a national election for June 18 to seek five more years in power.

The Laborite prime minister announced the date of the electoral contest after calling on Queen Elizabeth II at Buckingham Palace to inform her of his decision and to ask her to dissolve Parliament.

Then he returned to his headquarters at No. 10 Downing St. to advise the leaders of the two opposition parties — Edward Heath of the Conservatives and Jeremy Thorpe of the tiny Liberal party.

High Court Rules Women Have Right To Equal Pay

WASHINGTON (UPI) —The Supreme Court let stand today a lower court ruling that women are entitled to equal wages with men if they hold identical jobs.

In a brief order, the Court refused to hear an appeal by the Wheaton Glass Co., Millville, N.J., which was found in violation of the 1963 pay act by discriminating against employes on the basis of sex.

In other actions, the Court:

—Ruled by a unanimous 8-0 vote that a publication is not subject to libel for using the term "blackmail" against a person if the term is reported without malice as part of heated political debate. The decision reversed a $17,500 libel judgment against the Greenbelt (Md.) News Review won by a Maryland political candidate.

—Rejected a challenge of a New York law requiring employes of stock exchanges and brokerage houses to be fingerprinted.

—Let stand the first ruling against a factory which refused to comply with federal clean air regulation. It refused to hear an appeal by the Bishop Processing Co. of Bishop, Md., which was ordered to halt operations for failing to eliminate noxious odors emanating from its rendering plant.

—Upheld New York states' latest realignment of U.S. congressional districts by refusing to hear an appeal that the redistricting was an unconstitutional gerrymander.

In the equal pay for women case, the action came against one of the nation's largest manufacturers of glass containers.

An earlier case of discrimination against women was accepted by the Court March 2. It involved an alleged violation of the Civil Rights Act of 1964. Mrs. Ida Phillips claimed she was refused employment as an assembly-trainee in the Orlando, Fla., plant of the Martin-Marietta Co., solely because she

Bomber Nabbed

NEW YORK (AP) — Five weeks of surveillance by detectives have ended with the capture of a militant Puerto Rican nationalist who was being held here today on charges of planting bombs in 35 buildings around the city during the last seven months.

A pair of detectives from the Safe, Loft and Burglary Squad who had been following the bombing suspect nabbed Carlos Feliciano, 41, of East Harlem, Saturday as Feliciano allegedly was setting out two powerful explosive devices hidden in 2½-foot-long loaves of French bread at a Bronx military recruiting center.

Among the 35 bombings attributed by police to Feliciano was one that went off in the main reading room in The New York Public Library last December. The blast caused slight damage but no injuries.

Irish Arrest

DUBLIN, Ireland (AP) — The chief of staff of the outlawed Irish Republican Army was arrested Sunday on a charge of stealing a truck, but his underground organization denied involvement in the gun-running scandal in the government.

Police stopped the stolen truck in a Dublin suburb early Sunday. In it were IRA leader Cathal Goulding, who has passed 17 of his 48 years in British and Irish jails; an associate, Michael O'Driscoll; and three men who escaped.

Goulding and Driscoll were jailed and denied bail. Police were looking for the three other men.

Court Date Set In Bond Swindle

Two men charged with selling $20,000 in phony treasury bonds have been scheduled to appear Friday at 9 a.m. in Sonoma County Superior Court.

Robert Sessions, 45, of Redwood City, was bound over by Judge Alexander J. McMahon Friday in Southern Sonoma Municipal Court. Alford A. Nance, 45, of Santa Clara, pleaded guilty to a charge of grand theft and will appear with Sessions in court.

The men are accused of selling the worthless bonds to William Guglielmetti, 92, of 907 C Street and his brother, Robert Guglielmetti, 89, of 415 A Street, Petaluma.

ABM Construction Just Beginning

WASHINGTON (AP) — While the Safeguard antimissile debate rages over such chilling issues as missile threats and nuclear survival, the actual building of the Safeguard sites has hardly begun.

In the wheat fields around Grand Forks, N. D., about the only evidence of the missile-radar complex that is supposed to be ready to shoot down incoming Red Chinese and Soviet missiles by 1974 is a 12-mile dirt road, a 50-foot hole in the ground and a rail siding.

The Safeguard antimissile installations around Malmstrom Air Force Base and Great Falls, Mont., don't even have the rail siding and the hole in the ground.

But the first major construction contracts have been let and the House is expected to authorize $325.8 million Wednesday to begin building the radars, missile silos and other facilities.

The money is for antimissile sites at Grand Forks, Malmstrom and Whiteman Air Force Base, Mo.; site surveys and design work for five possible future sites and test facilities on Kwajalein Atoll in the Pacific.

The major construction items at those sites, and at Whiteman if the Senate gives the third site the go-ahead, will be the heavily reinforced buildings for long-range and short-range radars.

Construction also involves silos for the long-range and three-stage Spartan missiles that would shoot down enemy missiles up to 400 miles away and more accurate, short-range Sprint missiles to hit any missiles getting through the Spartan defense.

Although none of this is in place now, the construction is the final stage of assembling antimissiles, radars, computers and other gear that in some case has been under development since the first U. S. antiballistic missile system, the Nike Zeus, authorized in 1957.

The present schedule calls for completion of the Grand Forks site by November 1974, the Malmstrom site by March of 1975, and the Whiteman site by July 1975.

No Unilateral Cooling Of Agnew's Rhetoric

WASHINGTON (UPI) —Vice President Spiro T. Agnew says he has no intention of cooling his rhetoric until "some of the Eastern newspapers" begin toning down language that appears on their editorial pages.

The vice president also discounted recent antiwar student demonstrations as an accurate barometer of campus discontent over the U.S. incursion into Cambodia.

"I certainly don't agree that the demonstrations that took place in Washington and some of the demonstrations that have taken place on the campus are really indicative of the deep-seated student hostility to the Cambodian situation," he said.

"I think a lot of those students were out on a typical spring lark," Agnew said of the May 9 demonstration in Washington. He said there were also "some who actually had the feeling they were participating in a very important venture."

The letters he has received and the comments he has heard from students, Agnew said, indicated "they are not against the Cambodian decision."

The vice president was asked about President Nixon's recent statement that when the action got hot the rhetoric should become cool. "It'd be nice if we could have it," Agnew said, "And I think the best place and the first place it should begin is on the editorial pages of some of the eastern newspapers."

He added, "I think that it would be good if we could have a negotiated settlement of accelerated rhetoric, but I unilaterally do not intend to withdraw."

He said the purpose of his critical comments was to separate effectively from society a group he described as persisting "in anti social conduct."

Asked if he felt it fair to say he had attempted with words "to draw a fence around that group that you just described?" Agnew replied:

"You mean the criminally insane and those people? Yes, I think that's fair."

DRAMA REVIEW

College's 'Birds' A Stunning Delight

By GARY TISCHLER

The College of Marin Department of Drama's varied version of Aristophanes' "The Birds" is certainly the most going, hip, colorful and vibrantly energetic thing put on a Marin County stage in a long time.

It will be performed again tonight and tomorrow night at 8:30 in the college's Fine Arts Theater.

Aristophanes would probably frug and jerk a little in his grave or whatever. The plot, a sly and marvelous vehicle which sees the birds of the world unite to usurp the Gods in heaven under the leadership of some clownish humans, is still there, but it mocks not heaven so much as it does this particular day and age.

Some of the original farce seems to pop up every now and then, but mostly in mock rhyme or in a burlesque roll of the tongue.

This version of "The Birds" is, first of all, visually, a stunning, imaginative delight. Director Robin Jackson and his cohorts of designers have, in effect, put together a brand new world which encompasses not only the stage but the audience. The birds, for instance, are really birds, brightly plumaged, constantly moving, twitching, chirping, like they're young birds. The sets are reminiscent of the phone number in "Bye-Bye Birdie" of a while back, usable and movable.

The music would be strictly Greek to the Greeks. It's provided mostly by the Ofoedian Den, a rock group, and it's mostly rock, with touches of standard Broadway music.

The acting is excellent, with special kudos going to Rufus Gartrel and Rick Casorla as the two instigators of the bird-plan. Their clowning is raffish, apish with strong touches of what you might call modern vaudeville pratfalls and pranks.

J. W. Harper is Epops, king of the birds, and ranges somewhere between early LBJ and Jonathan Winters underneath his ornate and heavy costume. And Mark Rasmussen has a hilarious bit as a poet who swishes in with raised eyebrows and an ornate supporter to help consecrate the proceedings.

Other funny one-shot bits are provided by Robert Coiper as a messenger, David Brown as the bird's military leader, a hawk naturally, and Hugh Brashear as Prometheus.

The overall effect is almost purely visual and energetic. And that much of the production is almost faultless, as the bright costuming, the eerie boxes, the driving music, the flickering light shows combine for continuous wonder and drive.

The show, I'm sorry to say, is rather haphazardly up to date when it comes to trying to say something. References to Kent State, Cambodia, Viet-Nam, etc., are thrown in almost casually. The show winds up with a rousing number "We Got the Power", which is (1) almost a political copy of the "Hair" windup and (2) an emotional peace message, with members of the audience being dragged on to the stage.

I think peace is beautiful, and the sooner the better, but nothing happened in the play to warrant the windup, unless the birds, who seem a little on the silly, frilly side, are supposed to be students, and I'd rather not think so.

MUSIC REVIEW

Organ, Harpsichord Mix Well In Six Concertos

By MAYBELLE SPECKMANN

Wilbur Russell and Mark Smith, two of Marin's top masters of keyboard music, presented an excellent vespers recital yesterday afternoon at St. Stephen's Church in Belvedere. It consisted solely of six concertos for two keyboards by Padre Antonio Soler, an 18th century Spanish monk.

Smith, organist at St. Stephen's, played the organ, and Russell, head of music at the San Francisco Theological Seminary and minister of music and choirmaster at the First Presbyterian Church in San Anselmo, played that church's new harpsichord.

For those who have not heard the combination of pipe organ and harpsichord, the achievement of balance between the very different timbres and dynamics of the mighty pipe organ and the more delicate harpsichord must have been surprising. This was made possible by the precise control of the two musicians, especially the organ in which the registration rarely used any of the low, powerful voices, and by the linear melodic writing.

Most of the time the two instruments were equal partners, but at times the organ was the leader and at others the hrapsichord. There were many passages in antiphonal style when the theme stated by one was immediately echoed by the other. It was in these passages that the perfect synchronization and rapport of the performers were most evidnet.

Contrapuntal voices were crystal clear, and embellishments were handled smoothly with agility and grace.

Since Soler was a pupil of Scarlatti, the music was reminiscent at times of that Italian master (at others, of Mozart), but it was predominantly Spanish in feeling with hints of guitar strummings, Iberian dances and other Spanish influences.

Since most of the concertos has from four to seven variations of the minuet movements, the music was not only sensuously appealing to the ear but intellectually stimulating in noting the mutations of the themes.

Of the six concertos I found most enjoyable the first, the third with its brilliant fourth variation and the last with its decidedly Spanish flavor, including the use of the Spanish trumpet in registration.

The acoustics of the cathedral-like church made total sonority exceptionally brilliant. The baroque style of the music added to the reflection of moving colored shadows from the stained glass windows on the walls of the sanctuary lent a medieval atmosphere to the occasion.

Editors Hear Plan To Send Eel River Water To Delta

LAKEPORT (AP) — The proposed high level Dos Rios Dam across the Eel River near Round Valley would provide 900,000 acre feet of water yearly to the Sacramento-San Joaquin delta, experts told the editors of the Redwood Empire at a briefing here Saturday.

The dam would provide a reserve of water that would firm up the state's water contracts in dry years and assure the delta counties of water quality at the same time, proponents of the dam said.

Engineer Tom Wales, a consultant to the Kaiser Report on the dam, and Willard Hansen, now manager of the Lake County flood control and water conservation district, addressed the editors.

They said an additional benefit of the dam would be to retain storm waters in the upper Eel basin, enabling downstream tributaries to drain off within the river's natural channel without flooding.

Two routes are proposed to get the water from the Dos Rios reservoir in Round Valley through the mountains to the delta.

The first, favored by the state Department of Water Resources would more a tunnel through the mountans to Glenn County, which is interested in the water largely for the recreational facility a holding lake would provide.

The second route, considered by the Kaiser report to be less expensive, would use a shorter tunnel under English Ridge to take the water to Clear Lake, from which it would flow through Cache and Putah Creeks into the delta.

Lake County's benefit from such a plan would be largely ecological; the fresh water from the Eel would help clear out excessive growths of algae which have been developing in the lake.

before reaching Takeo, a province capital 35 miles south of Phnom Penh. Two other villages threatened by guerrilla troops were secured—Kompong Trach and Ton Hon.

Military spokesmen said the total number of guerrillas slain Sunday in Cambodia was 330, with American losses put at seven dead and 14 wounded. The government said seven of its men were killed and 25 wounded in the new Camnodian spearhead.

Headquarters gave these casualties for the entire Cambodian offensive: 7,843 Communist troops killed and 1,145 captured, 150 Americans killed and 598 wounded, 550 South Vietnamese troops dead and 1,828 wounded.

The tally of captured weapons and supplies, considered the yardstick of success in this operation, was 12,750 weapons and 3,650 tons of rice, along with hundreds of tons of munitions.

Military sources said American soldiers in the Fishhook salient of Cambodia, 70 miles north of Saigon, had turned up documents last week that indicated they had discovered the finance, economy and education centers of the Communists' field headquarters.

Just west of that area, Cambodian troops Sunday drove out Viet Cong and North Vietnamese soldiers from the city of Kompong Cham, second biggest city in Cambodia. Today the government troops attacked Tonle Bet, a town in Communist hands across the Mekong River from Kompong Cham.

South Vietnamese fighter-bombers called in to help the Cambodians at Kompong Cham mistakenly bombed a Cambodian unit, killing nine soldiers Sunday before the guerrillas fled the city without a fight.

was the mother of pre-school children.

The Labor Department contended that Wheaton Glass, which employes 2,200 persons, paid men 10 per cent more than women in the category of "selector-packers."

The 3rd U.S. Circuit Court of Appeals on Jan. 13 agreed with the department that the company, by paying women less than unskilled workers, denied them opportunity to perform the "flexible" duties of male "selector-packers" to earn higher pay. The ruling noted the firm first hired women only because of a labor shortage in 1956.

The circuit court reversed a ruling in favor of Wheaton Glass by the U.S. District Court at Camden, N.J., on May 14, 1968, and ordered retroactive pay for the women affected.

The department started the investigation of alleged violations of the Equal Pay Act after receiving complaints "of reluctant employes" seeking back pay.

School Board To Consider Reassignment

The San Anselmo School District board will consider a proposal to move 15 students from Isabel Cook School to Brookside School next year, at its meeting at 7:30 p.m. tomorrow at Red Hill School.

Brookside School has sufficient space, while the Cook School does not, Supt. Stephen L. Parodi said today.

He said the students will be fifth and sixth graders next year.

If parents do not volunteer their children for the move, he said, children living between Sir Francis Drake and Center boulevards, west of Sir Francis Drake High School would be moved. The distance to the two schools from that area is about the same, Parodi said.

The board also will consider increases in the salary schedule for summer school teachers and discuss next year's budget and a possible future tax or bond issue.

Symposium On War For Novato High

Novato High School students will hear six speakers both for and against the Vietnam and Cambodian war in a voluntary program starting at 9 a.m. tomorrow in the boy's gymnasium, according to Principal Stanley V. Onderdonk.

Students who want to attend regular classes or study in the library may do so. Those who want to hear any of the speakers will be excused from class, he said.

The six speakers are: Prof. Terry Lundsford and Prof. Robert Buckhout, both of the University of California at Berkeley; Prof. William Nightswonger, Sonoma State College professor and trustee of the Santa Rosa School District; Carl Daviesson, graduate in ecology from the University of Stockholm and United Nations game warden in Africa.

Two students, Daniel Siegal, former president of the U.C. student body at Berkeley, and Steven Diaz of San Francisco State also will speak.

The program will probably last until about 2 p.m. with an hour break for lunch, Onderdonk said.

Home Building Sag Reverses Earlier Gains

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Home building starts sagged last month to a seasonally adjusted annual rate of 1,181,000 units after two months of modest recovery, the Commerce Department reported Friday.

The April rate was down from 1,384,000 units in March and was the second lowest total since April 1967. It was substantially less than half the pace the government says is needed to meet the nation's goal of 26 million homes in 10 years.

Home building has been in a steady decline since January 1969, when the rate of building starts was slightly less than 1.9 million units.

In the six months ended last month, the rate of housing starts was 13 per cent below the preceding six-month period and 22 per cent below the corresponding period a year ago.

The National Association of Home Builders blames the government's anti-inflation "tight monty" policy for the slump in housing.

Starts of single family, privately owned structures were at a seasonally adjusted annual rate of 693,000 last month, down from 702,000 in March.

The most dramatic drop was in construction of apartment buildings with five or more units. The rate dropped from 612,000 units in March to 429,000 in April.

Cyclists Are Hurt In Crash

Two 16-year-old San Francisco youths were injured when their motorcycle collided head-on with a car on Sir Francis Drake Boulevard near Lagunitas Road at 4:45 p.m. yesterday.

The California Highway Patrol said George A. Meschi and Mark Giorgi were taken by ambulance to Marin General Hospital after their motorcycle crossed the center line and hit a car driven by Carolyn M. Melius, 48, also of San Francisco.

The hospital reported Meschi was in fair condition with fractured legs and possible internal injuries and Giorgi was transferred to Kaiser Foundation Hospital in San Francisco with a fractured right leg and possible concussion. He was reported in fair condition today.

The car driver complained of neck and head pains, but said she would see her own doctor.

Woman Held On Indictment For Nine Charges

A Sausalito woman indicated by a San Francisco Grand Jury Monday on nine counts of receiving stolen property and possession of marijuana and LSD was arrested Friday in Sausalito and is being held for San Francisco police at Marin County Jail under $25,000 bail.

Audrey Lee, 21, of 156 Buchanan Court, was arrested with a companion, Henry Garrison, last month when San Francisco and Marin law officers broke down the door to their San Francisco apartment.

The couple has been allegedly linked to more than 38 burglaries in Marin County during the last five years.

Garrison was held in San Francisco City Jail pending transfer to Marin County Jail, but Miss Lee had been missing until she was arrested by Sausalito police yesterday.

Police declined to give details of the arrest.

Tuesday in memory of the Jackson State students. NIU observed a two day moratorium of classes following the deaths at Kent State.

President James E. Cheek of Howard University, a mostly black school in Washington, D.C., called off academic classes for the rest of the semester. He said the school would remain open for seminars on the shootings and other current topics.

Lincoln (Pa.) University announced it would close for the remainder of the semester "out of respect for the students killed."

At the University of Maryland, at least 22 students were ordered to leave the campus and school officials said more than 175 others would be expelled as soon as possible. National Guardsmen remained on the College Park, Md., campus today, and officials said the troops would stay there until graduation ceremonies June 6.

Classes were canceled at the Tuskegee (Ala.) Institute until Wednesday and Brooklyn College students scheduled memorial services today.

Two Booked On Drug, Beer Counts

Two Tiburon youths were arrested Saturday for investigation of a variety of charges, including narcotics and alcohol violations, Tiburon police reported today.

David Cornelius Meyer, 18, of 135 Jamaica Street, was booked into Marin County Jail on suspicion of possession of marijuana and narcotics paraphernalia, possession of alcoholic beverages, contributing to the delinquency of a minor and suspicion of possession of stolen property, police said.

Gary Fink, 17, of the same address, was booked into Marin County Juvenile Hall for investigation of possession of marijuana, narcotics paraphernalia and alcoholic beverages.

The youths were arrested about 9 p.m. when police saw a car stopped in the middle of the street in the 1600 block of Mar West and stopped to investigate.

In the car police said they found cans of beer, homemade pipes, cigarette clips and papers and, in a jacket, a plastic bag believed to contain marijuana.

Also discovered in the auto was a car stereo with the serial number filed off, police reported.

Meyer was released on $625 bail and was to appear in Marin Municipal Court Wednesday at 2 p.m.

not appear much affected so far. The U.S. 11th Armored Regiment has moved to high ground and escaped the clinging mud now building up in the Fishhook, where the tanks first swept through.

Only about 30 per cent of the sanctuary area has been covered so far, and that has been the easy 30 per cent. Many of the remaining areas have triple canopy jungle, hills and heavy bunkers.

Field commanders say there is increasing evidence that the large supply dumps found in the Fishhook region and adjoining areas were way stations on the trails into South Vietnam. Officers of the U.S. 1st Air Cavalry Division said their forces were so successful in blocking trails into South Vietnam in 1969 that the Communist command could not move the new supplies across in the recent dry season. That accounts for the captured supplies being in the open, waiting to be moved into Vietnam.

Bigger supply caches could well be either in the thick jungle or deeper inside Cambodia. At the current pace of operations, they might not be found by June 30.

And Thurmond, long an advocate of hitting Communist sanctuaries, said "It is now time for the American people to close ranks behind our President."

But Hollings, noting he had always felt Presidents Johnson and Nixon had failed to go far enough to win the war, said the President's "sudden switch into Cambodia without consulting Congress amounts to a surprise attack on the basic tenets of representative government."

"We must act immediately to restore the people's confidence," Hollings said. "This is what concerns the majority of students.

"They have been fighting the militants and campus radicals. They have been opposing the burnings and campus takeovers. Their argument has been for the system and working within the system.

"President Nixon seriously damaged this argument with Cambodia," Hollings concluded, "and now we stand to alienate a whole generation of future leadership in this country."

Tax Rate Will Hold In Larkspur Budget

A proposed 1970-71 budget of $1,162,864 would leave the City of Larkspur's property tax rate at the present $1.905 per $100 assessed valuation.

Revenue estimates indicate property taxes would produce $459,254 of the total. The proposed budget would cut the city's reserve balance from the $239,842 estimated for this June 30 to $100,495 a year later.

Largest chunk of the money is marked for public works, which will get $402,713, down from this year's $451,038. Public works budgets include $61,398 for street operations, $8,600 for street maintenance, $158,000 for street construction, $35,006 for street lighting, $25,409 for drainage and $114,300 for sanitary sewers.

The public safety department, including police, fire and inspection services, is budgeted at $391,088 compared with this year's $342,197.

The fire department budget is $212,142, the police department's $155,212 and inspection $23,734.

Other department budgets are $41,306 for administration, $8,208 for finance, $7,700 for legal, $12,533 for planning, $4,400 for engineering, $16,731 for general government buildings, and $84,300 for nondepartmental expenses. The latter item includes $54,800 for retirement, health insurance and state disability insurance.

The parks and recreation budget totals $41,200 and the library budget $52,190.

Salaries constitute a major portion of the budget — projected salaries total $451,122, with temporary help budgeted at another $33,690.

Anticipated revenue, in addition to property taxes, includes $134,550 sales tax, $9,400 from franchises, $33,500 from licenses and permits and $10,800 from fines and penalties.

Another $253,051 is anticipated from "other agencies," which includes $77,196 in gas taxes, $60,855 from motor vehicle license fees, $26,100 in cigarette taxes, and smaller amounts for trailer coaches, liquor, county road funds, and real estate transfers.

Delinquent tax payments are expected to produce $13,427, interest $7,500 and insurance refunds $1,500.

The city's tax levies are 90 cents per $100 for the general fund, 7 cents for drainage, 7 cents for parks and recreation, 12.5 cents for the library, 9.5 cents for retirement and 64.5 cents for the sanitary fund.

State Will Ask For More Pilings In Span Widening

I-J Special Report

SAN FRANCISCO — State Division of Highways officials will go before the San Francisco Bay Conservation and Development Commission Thursday seeking to increase from 42 to 84 the number of pilings it can use in the scheduled widening of the Richardson Bay Bridge.

The bridge is to be widened from six to eight lanes. The BCDC recently unanimously approved adding one new piling at each of the 42 rows of pilings that now support the bridge.

In its reapplication, the highway division said "after our extensive substructure studies, we have found that the pile arrangement attached to our original application . . . will not provide adequate support for the additional deck."

The division said its study showed that if one piling was used, it would have to be five feet in diameter rather than the normal three and one-half feet. It said that the use of such a large piling would ". . . not be sufficient lateral support to prevent a buckling failure" in case of an earthquake.

Youth Arrested For Growing Pot

An 18-year-old Redwood High School student was arrested Friday at noon at the school by Larkspur police on suspicion of growing marijuana.

Police said today Mark Alling Harris of 6 Arcadia Larkspur, was observed by officers Thursday watering 12 suspected marijuana plants on the railroad right-of-way near the Alexander Avenue bridge.

He was booked into Marin County Jail and will appear today in Marin Municipal Court.

Wage-Price Control Policy Warned Near

HOT SPRINGS, Va. (AP) — The chairman of the Federal Reserve System said today a policy approaching wage and price control may be necessary temporarily.

Arthur F. Burns told the 17th annual monetary conference of the American Bankers Association:

"We should not close our minds to the possibility that an incomes policy, provided it stopped well short of direct price and wage controls and was used merely as a supplement to over-all fiscal and monetary measures, might speed us through this transition period of cost push inflation."

Cost push inflation is caused by continuing high cost of labor and materials rather than by excessive consumer and business demands.

Burns said government intervention to control excessive wage and price costs would be "completely impractical" over a long period. He conceded that such a policy also might not have a lasting effect on the structure of costs and prices if its use was restricted to a transitional period.

Burns' remarks were his strongest public statement on the subject to date.

He also said it was of fundamental importance that the government's taxing and spending programs and control of the money supply work hand in hand in the months ahead.

"If the tempo of economic activity picks up later this year, as may now be reasonably anticipated, the task of insuring that this recovery does not become too brisk—thereby threatening a re-emergence of excessive demand—should not fall on monetary policy alone" he told the European, Canadian and American bankers. "Fiscal policy must do its share."

San Rafael Man Injured In Crash

John E. Krummes, 22, of 101 B Street, San Rafael, was treated at Kaiser Foundation Hospital Saturday for bruises of the ribs and left shoulder following a two-car collision in San Rafael, police reported today.

The accident occurred at 7:18 a.m. on Fifth Avenue near C Street when Krummes car collided with one driven by Alexander J. Guiton, 26, of Albany, according to police.

Corte Madera Path On Agenda

The controversial footpath along Corte Madera's High Canal will again be discussed at the Corte Madera Town Council meeting tonight at 7:30 p.m. at the Town Hall.

Residents who pay taxes on the canal's utility easement property, have complained that their property and privacy rights are being violated by public use of the land as a footpath.

The council two weeks ago voted in favor of keeping the footpath open for public use during the day but closed at night.

Other items on tonight's agenda include a report on the town's flood control plan and setting of budget meetings.

Police Seeking Check Passer

San Rafael police want to hear from persons or firms who may have been victims of a man arrested in Santa Rosa on suspicion of passing bad checks.

Police said that John Morales, 28, of Santa Rosa, allegedly cashed 25 bad checks in Marin County using the name Charles Higgins of Santa Rosa. Only eight of the checks have been located, police said.

Highway Problems To Be Aired

Marin's balanced transportation study, which shows highways cannot keep up with the county's projected growth, will be explained at a special meeting of Marin County Transit District directors Wednesday night at the Civic Center.

The meeting will start at 8 o'clock in the supervisors' chambers on the third floor.

The county planning and public works departments will discuss findings from the first phase of the study and will explain what can be expected from the second phase.

H. Rune Carlson, coordinator of the study, said that if county growth proceeds on the basis of adopted community general plans, Marin would need in the year 2020:

Highway 101 with 12 to 18 lanes, Sir Francis Drake Boulevard and the Miracle Mile with 8 to 10 lanes each, a second deck on the Golden Gate Bridge, and something like the Embarcadero freeway on the San Francisco side of the bridge.

In order to "balance" highways and land development as proposed in the local plans, a mass transit system is needed to handle 60 per cent of all travelers to San Francisco and 11 per cent of all travelers in Marin.

"Such a mass transit system would probably be either a rail system with feeder buses or a rapid-bus sytem operating on exclusive right-of-way," said Carlson.

Phase two of the study will look at alternative plans to present transit recommendations.

A certain level of congestion might have to be planned into the future highway system to get people out of cars and into an improved transit system and in order to preserve the environment, suggested Carlson.

Eight Parked Cars Entered

Eight cars parked on Novato Street were broken into around 12:48 a.m. today, San Rafael police reported. Nothing was reported missing from the vehicles, according to police.

The eight cars found with their passenger doors ajar were: a green Mustang convertible with license AOT422 parked at 165 Novato Street; a Rambler station wagon with license DPA144 at 167 Novato Street; a Plymouth with license FBI671 and a Dodge parked at 173 Novato Street; a green Rambler with licesse NKU574, a 1961 Chevrolet with license UYS800, a Mercedes with license ZJB162 and a 1963 white Chevrolet with license CXP790, all at 175 Novato Street.

A witness told police he saw a youth about five feet, eight or 10 inches with long blond hair and wearing white trousers in the vicinity of the cars.

ELSIE POMEROY

Artist Is Nominated By Seniors

Elsie Pomeroy, an 87-year-old artist who has her "studio" at the Tamalpais Retirement Residence in Larkspur, has been nominated by the Tamalpais Seniors for Marin's outstanding senior citizen of 1970.

Mrs. Pomeroy, a long-time resident of Mill Valley, said she has been painting "all my life and I'm still doing it."

The upstairs gallery at the Art Store in Mill Valley has been named in her honor and her paintings were exhibited last year at the Mill Valley library art gallery in a one-woman show.

The Tamalpais Seniors said "her continued success in painting at her advanced age has been a great inspiration to many other senior citizens."

Of her nomination, she said, "This is a novel experience for me. I'm really flattered that they picked me."

Mrs. Pomeroy said she has tried her hand at modern abstract painting and concluded "you have to do a great deal more thinking to paint abstracts that to paint what you see."

A native of New Castle, Pa., she spent her early years in Washington, D. C., and studied at the Corcoran School of Art there.

Mrs. Pomeroy worked as a botanical artist for the U.S. Department of Agriculture. Her late husband, Carl, also worked for the department and the couple moved to Riverside in 1912 when he was assigned there.

Mrs. Pomeroy, a resident of Marin for about 25 years, lived in Mill Valley until moving to the Tamalpais recently.

She is a member of various art groups, has donated many paintings for various charities, formerly taught night classes at Tamalpais High School and was instrumental in starting the first art festival in Mill Valley.

Mrs. Pomeroy and other nominees will be honored at the annual award luncheon sponsored by the Marin Senior Coordinating Council May 28 at the Holiday Inn in San Rafael.

Ruth Laidlaw Chosen Homestead Nominee

Ruth Laidlaw, former Sausalito resident and long associated with Bay Area music circles, has been nominated as Marin's senior citizen of the year by the Homestead Terrace Senior Citizens.

Mrs. Laidlaw, 88, a member of Christ Episcopal Church in Sausalito since coming to Marin 58 years ago from Portland, still sings in the church choir on Sundays.

She also has retained membership during that time in the Sausalito Women's Club.

Mrs. Laidlaw moved from Sausalito last year to the Homestead Terrace senior citizen development in Homestead Valley.

Mrs. Laidlaw started studying singing as a child. During the 1920s she gave singing lessons in her Sausalito home and was a soloist at many recitals in both Marin and San Francisco.

In 1925 and, 26 she sang every morning on a radio program on station KGO in San Francisco and also performed with the Player's Club there.

Mrs. Laidlaw was born in Shanghai, China, where her father, Bernard O. Scott, was an American Naval officer. Her grandfather was the U. S. Consul General in China at the time.

Three years later the family returned to this country and lived on the East Coast before moving to Portland five years later. Mrs. Laidlaw was married there in 1903.

Her husband, James E. Laidlaw, a San Francisco shipping executive, died in 1934.

After her three children had grown and left home and four years after her husband's death, Mrs. Laidlaw embarked on a new career and became a housemother at the University of Washington, a post she held for 10 years. In 1948 she became a housemother at the University of Oergon for five years and also worked at San Jose State College for five years until retiring in 1960.

RUTH LAIDLAW
Former radio singer

Her son, Alan H. Laidlaw, vice president of the Atlas Steamship Agency in San Francisco and a former State Department official, resides in Tiburon and her daughter, Mrs. Gertrude Decker, lives in Mill Valley. Another son, retired Rear Adm. James S. Laidlaw, died seven years ago.

Mrs. Decker said her mother likes to entertain, play bridge and read history and biography, in addition to her interest in music.

Truck Vandalism

Vandals poured sugar into the gasoline tanks of four trucks owned by Cable TV of Marin, 402 Fourth Street, and parked at a lot at Fourth and Union streets sometime before 1:20 p.m. Wednesday, San Rafael police reported today. The amount of damage was not known.

Enrollment On Fairfax Agenda

The Fairfax School District board will discuss an apparent decline in kindergarten enrollment for the next school year at its meeting at 7:45 p.m. tomorrow at the district office, 58 Park Road.

Supt. H. Reginald Hammond said only 76 children were enrolled at registration last month. Enrollment has been running at about 120 children for the last several years, he said.

If 76 is an accurate figure for next year's enrollment, he said possible staff cuts might have to be considered.

The board will also hear a report on drug abuse education in the district schools and will attempt to formulate a tenetative budget for next year.

National Settlement Is Reached

WASHINGTON (UPI) —The federal government announced today settlement of a strike that had grounded National Airlines for 108 days.

Labor Secretary George P. Shultz said National, the nation's sixth largest domestic airline, and the Air Line Employes Association, reached agreement at 7:30 a.m. EDT on a new contract after an all-night session.

Shultz said the agreement was achieved with the aid of Assistant Labor Secretary William J. Usery Jr. and the chairman of the National Mediation Board, W. Frank O'Neill, after five days of almost continuous bargaining.

A spokesman for National Airlines said the agreement, retroactive to May 1, 1969, would give employes pay raises totaling 33 per cent over a three-year period. The raises are for 11 per cent a year effective each May 1 from 1969 to 1971.

The agreement must be ratified by union members in 43 cities in 17 states. The National spokesman said this could be a lengthy process, but that the airline hoped to be able to get some planes flying again by the weekend.

The union represents 3,600 station agents, ramp agents, reservation clerks and clerical personnel with National, which has a total payroll of some 7,600.

The ALEA called a strike against the airline last Jan. 31, halting all operations. National operates mostly along the East and Gulf coasts.

National's pilots will have to be checked out again because they have not been able to fly for more than 90 days. The rechecking is not expected to take more than two or three days.

Shone To Keynote NSGW Convention

Ray Shone, candidate for the Republican nomination for the state senate from the Fourth District, will be the keynote speaker at the statewide convention of the Native Sons of the Golden West.

Shone is a past grand president of the organization which will meet in Los Banos, Merced County, tomorrow, Wednesday and Thursday.

13 Black Ensigns Enter The Navy

PRAIRIE VIEW, Tex. (AP) — Secretary of the Navy John Chafee has commissioned 13 black Prairie View A&M students as ensigns in the Navy. They were the first graduates of the first Naval ROTC program at a predominately Negro school.

Chafee told the new officers:

"You will face the added challenge of integrating efficiently into what is still essentially a great white fleet."

"Although we long ago assumed equality of opportunity," he added, "and although we have tripled the number of black officers in the Navy and the Marine Corps in the last eight years and are making even more rapid progress, you will still be for a while in a very small minority."

Passenger Hurt In Freeway Collision

Mary E. Noe, 50, of 32 San Miguel Court, Novato, sustained a minor neck injury Friday night when the car in which she was riding was struck in the rear on Highway 101 near the Highway 37 intersection by a vehicle driven by Ray D. Bazzell, 29, the California Highway patrol reported.

She was treated at Marin General Hospital.

Lagunitas District Tax Raise On Ballot

Lagunitas School District voters will be asked to approve a 90-cent increase in the maximum tax rate in the June 2 election.

The district board is seeking the tax increase authority to meet an anticipated $49,000 deficit in the 1970-71 budget. It is estimated that maintaining present programs will cost $399,765, while known income is $350,155.

According to district information sheets mailed to residents, the squeeze comes from decreases in state and federal aid, inflation, salary increases built into the present salary schedule, and decreased enrollment which has further cut state aid.

No additional money is expected from the state, but the board is on record that if more money is received the full tax increase will not be levied.

The district's present tax rate is $3.495, including $2.065 general fund, 35.5 cents for bonds, $1.06 for the areawide tax rate, and 1.5 cents for the mentally retarded fund.

In a budget revision prepared against the possibility that the tax increase is not approved, the district staff has eliminated $44,155 from the budget with a series of cuts which include eliminating one teaching post, the school librarian, a guidance counseling position, a teacher's aide, school buses, $5,000 for equipment, $1,000 for school supplies, $1,000 for supplementary books, $4,915 by returning a partable classroom to the renter, and $1,000 for substitute custodians.

Estimated cost of the increase would be $45 a year for the owner of a residence valued at $25,000. No ballot argument was filed against the proposal.

According to the citizens, committee in favor of the tax increase, the district spends less per child than 12 of Marin's 17 elementary school districts.

Irish tradition holds that St. Patrick drove out the island's snakes in the fifth century, but scientists have no evidence the creatures ever existed there.

Narcotics Case Warrant Issued

I-J Special Report

SAN FRANCISCO — A bench warrant for Robert Anthony Watt, arrested last June in Tamalpais Valley on a federal charge of possessing LSD, has been issued in U. S. District Court.

Watt had pleaded guilty March 4, but failed several times to appear for sentencing, so Judge Gerald S. Levin issued the bench warrant Wednesday and ordered Watt's $500 bail forfeited.

He was arrested after narcotics agents found $10,000 worth of LSD under a sleeping bag in a vacant lot in Tam Valley.

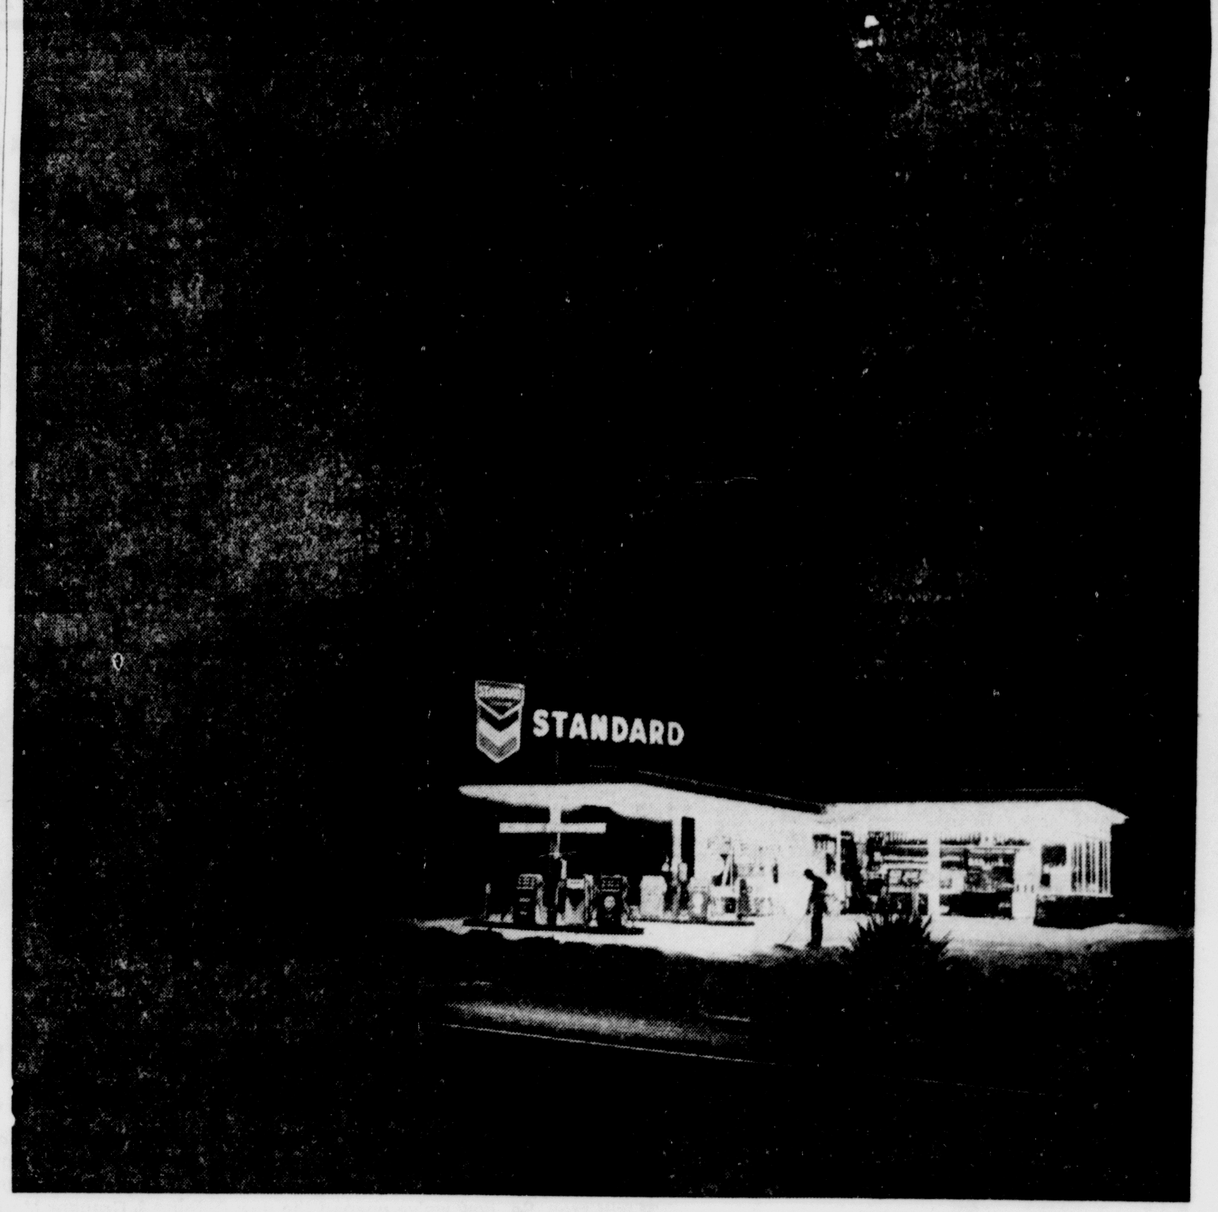
"...crime cannot be controlled without the interest and participation of schools, businesses, social agencies, private groups and individual citizens."

—from A Report by the President's Commission on Law Enforcement and Administration of Justice



So from now on, between 10 p.m. and 6 a.m., Standard Stations will operate strictly on a no-cash-on-hand basis.

Statistics show that more robberies occur during the wee hours than at any other time.

Consequently, Standard Stations open after 10 p.m. will now accept only the exact change for the amount of purchase. Or a valid credit card. Or, in an emergency, a personal check.

And all currency received after dark will be deposited—posthaste—in a tamper-proof, one-way, safe on the premises. In this way, we hope to protect not only our station employees, but our customers as well.

As the Commission's Report sums it up, ". . . society must seek to prevent crime before it happens . . . and by reducing criminal opportunities."

And we think that one way to discourage highway robbery is to remove all temptation.

Supervisors Due Report From Youth Commissioners

Marin County Board of Supervisors will meet at 9 a.m. tomorrow with the Marin County Youth Commission, which will give a progress report on work accomplished since December.

During the regular supervisors' session, starting at 10:30 a.m., the supervisors will hear another request by Acting Planning Director Werner Von Gundell to fill two of four vacant positions in the planning department.

Van Gundell wants a secretary-stenographer and a senior planner.

The supervisors will also hear a request from the Marin Group for AB-1460 that the board adopt a resolution endorsing the legislation which, if passed, would bar California citizens from serving in wars undeclared by Congress.

The supervisors will also consider the appointment of Albert Solnit as acting planning director from May 27, when Von Gundell goes on vacation, until June 9, the first meeting after the June 2 election. The June 2 election will determine the fate of Planning Director Paul C. Zucker, who is running for supervisor against incumbent John F. McInnis.

Other items on tomorrow's supervisors' agenda include:

An ordinance setting up fees for use of county property for commercial filming, a compromise settlement with Pacific Gas & Electric Com for installation of parking lot lights at the Veterans Memorial Auditorium, setting budget hearings from June 14 through June 24, and a report from the county counsel that the government has mailed a letter committing itself to purchase the 2,500-acre Lake Ranch in the Point Reyes National Seashore.

Richmond Man Struck, Killed On Highway 17

A 55-year-old Richmond laborer on a fishing outing was killed Saturday when he was hit by a car while walking across Highway 17, west of the Richmond-San Rafael Bridge.

California Highway Patrol officers identified the victim as Robert Jack Turner of 648 Fourth Street.

Turner walking south across the highway at 10:10 a.m., was struck by a small foreign car driven westbound by David Lawrence Doan, 27, of San Pablo, officers said.

Turner crossing the highway 120 feet west of the bridge, apparently walked in front of Doan's car which was going 60-65 miles an hour and was thrown about 60 feet. He was pronounced dead on arrival at Marin General Hospital at 10:28 a.m.

Turner's fishing pole and his fishing gear can were strewn along the roadway. His car was parked near the eastbound off ramp to San Quentin Prison.

Doan driving in the left lane told officers he saw Turner in the center of the middle lane, apparently stopped, but when he approached Turner kept walking into the path of his car. He applied his brakes, but "apparently he never saw us," he said.

A witness told officers that Turner had stopped walking in the middle lane and then walked in front of Doan's car.

Mrs. Doan, 26, and her son James, nine months, suffered bruises and were treated at Kaiser Hospital in Terra Linda.

Turner's death was the 15th traffic fatality in Marin this year as compared to 13 at the same time last year.

Funeral arrangements are pending at Keaton's Mortuary, San Rafael.

Norton Simon Speaks to the Big Issues

...and Californians who share his concern for America are listening

Norton Simon, the Republican candidate for the U.S. Senate, is not a politician. But his personal convictions and his concern for America's future are deeply felt. And he is determined to be heard—let the votes fall where they will.

Where does Norton Simon stand on the most critical issues facing America?

"VIETNAM. I support cautious but continuing withdrawal of American forces, according to the schedule and conditions set by the President. I oppose my opponent's frequent demands for deeper involvement, often in contradiction with the President.

CAMPUS VIOLENCE. I insist, as I have for years as a Regent of the University of California, that we must increase our campus police force. I insist that we must hold academic administrators strictly accountable for the prevention of violence and property destruction and for the prompt imposition of order if outbreaks should occur.

EDUCATION. I will fight for a more realistic distribution of federal revenues to the states and to local communities to improve the quality of education and to reduce the back-breaking burden on the property taxpayer. I believe we must institute on a national scale the reforms I am currently urging for the University of California—reforms that applied nationally could save billions a year through higher returns on university investments, more efficient operations, and a more intensive curricula that will require students to earn their degrees in a shorter time.

CRIME. We must support our police not only in their difficult and dangerous duties but in their rightful demands for wages commensurate with those duties.

THE ENVIRONMENT. If America can meet a deadline for putting a man on the moon, we can also set target dates for reaching anti-smog and anti-pollution goals. And one of the first priorities must be tougher penalties against the violator.

THE ECONOMY. Free enterprise incentives from government are the only way we can generate the extra dividends necessary to restore confidence in our economy, to hold the tax line, and to check inflation. Bold economic efforts are vital in the 1970s if we are to relieve unemployment and finance the new public responsibilities that lie ahead.

INTEGRITY IN GOVERNMENT. The direct responsibility for many of the policies that are damaging our economy lies with the powerful lobbies in Washington whose selfish interests are inimical to the public interest. An investigation and expose of their influence is critical to integrity in government. The Republican Party has always led the way in insisting that public office should be held only by those who have the independence and self-discipline to maintain it as a special trust. And I am hopeful my party will reaffirm that commitment in this election."

Yes, Norton Simon is speaking to the issues. And increasing numbers of California Republicans are listening to him and agreeing with him.

Norton Simon would bring unique qualifications to the U.S. Senate. A life-long Republican, he is one of America's most successful industrialists, a national leader in education, an expert in fiscal management. And he is his own man.

In Norton Simon, we have a new and dynamic choice for the U. S. Senate. Please help us elect him.

Norton Simon

Important But Unpublicized Job Of Tax 'Watchdog'

One of the least publicized races in the June primary election campaign has drawn one of the largest fields of candidates.

It is the contest for nominations by Republican and Democratic parties for member of the California Board of Equalization from the Third District, which includes 25 counties running from San Francisco Bay north to the Oregon line.

Ten candidates entered shortly before the filing deadline, after Paul R. Leake, Woodland Democrat who has long occupied the post, announced he would not seek another term.

WHAT DOES the state board of equalization do? What is its importance to the ordinary citizen?

It has many duties, and its importance is great.

The board is made up of five members, of whom four are elected by districts and the fifth is the state controller.

It administers and collects sales taxes and special taxes on gasoline, insurance, alcoholic beverages and cigarettes.

It serves as "watchdog" to see that property throughout the state is assessed on the same basis. Every three years, a team from the board of equalization (which has some 2,500 employees) makes a spot check of each county's assessments and its own appraisals of a sample of properties in the county.

It is then the board's duty to check and adjust local assessment roles so that taxpayers in one county will be treated the same as those in another county.

The board also is required to make its own assessments of property owned or used by railroads, express, telephone, gas and electric utilities, and see that these pay their fair share of real estate taxes.

OBVIOUSLY, to serve on the board of equalization a man needs considerable knowledge of assessing and taxing procedures. Not all the candidates in the big field have such knowledge.

One way to learn it has been through service as a county supervisor, when the supervisors had to sit as county board of equalization — which they no longer do. Two of the Republican candidates learned it in that way: Ernest N. Kettenhofen of San Anselmo and John M. Mayfield Jr. of Ukiah.

Another way is through service as county assessor. A third Republican candidate, George R. O'Connor of Red Bluff, learned it in that way.

Among the three, we will go along with Marin's own "Ernie" Kettenhofen. Not only was he outstanding in his service on the county board of equalization, but he has other intimate knowledge of taxing procedures gained through his years in real estate, industry, and as owner of agricultural land. and he is a man who digs for the answers.

ANOTHER WAY to learn much about the job of a board of equalization member is through service on the California Public Utilities Commission, which controls the rates — though not the taxes — of the utilities.

One of the Democratic candidates, William M. Bennett of Kentfield, learned in that way.

None of the other Democratic candidates appears to have comparable experience.

Two Easy Ones On Ballot

There are two measures on the June 2 ballot in San Rafael which offer little basis for disagreement.

Measure F would delete from the city charter the provision for a city health officer.

All duties of the city health officer have been turned over to the county health department. The county is well equipped to do the work and there is no need for duplication.

Measure G would increase from $1,000 to $10,000 the annual amount the city may spend on advertising and promotion.

When the $1,000 limit was put in the charter in 1912, it represented a more liberal allowance than $10,000 would today. It is unrealistic to keep such a small limitation.

Campus Nonsense Hits Nadir: Credit For Protest Activities

By HENRY C. MacARTHUR

SACRAMENTO — (CNS — Lately, it has been thought that the University of California has participated in every kind of idiocy immaginable, but the campus at Irvine has come up with another one.

The academic senate in this seat of higher learning has made proposals to give academic credit to students for "war protest activities." In other words, participate in a march, throw a few rocks, break some windows, burn some banks, and collect credits for this type of activity toward a bachelor's degree.

SOME OF the foolish courses presented by the university can be excused or at least, tolerated, on the grounds that an affluent society finally can become surfeited with learning and needs to branch out with courses that may actually benefit some people and serve as an addenda to the more prosaic courses offered.

These do no violence to the people of the state, even though primarily useless, or at least, non-essential.

On the other hand, university credit for classes in war protest activities appears to be the ultimate in directing the path of destruction for the society which sponsors the university and pays its bills.

APPARENTLY, the time has come for the taxpayers to start demanding some searching inquiry into the administration of the university. They should find out what is an "academic senate," how much power it has to say what students are taught, why it's necessary to all, and the influence it exerts on the lives of the students.

A look might be taken at the time out from teaching activities the professors take to serve on this questionable organization which seems to call the shots.

STATE SEN. John G. Schmitz, R-Tustin, whose senatorial district encompasses the Irvine campus, says that giving such credit as suggested by the academic senate "would be an insult to the whole nature and purpose for which universities exist, which is to serve as centers of learning and rational thought, not agitation."

The senator calls this "further convincing evidence and proof that the real responsibility for campus turmoil lies much more with the faculty that with the students."

Said Schmitz: "The authority over courses and curriculum which the academic senate has so grossly abused should be immediately withdrawn from them by the university administrators, to whom it properly belongs. If they do not do so, they have failed in their trust."

There is also the possibility that the academic senate could be charged with incitment to riot.

CYNIC'S CORNER By Interlandi

". . . and I want it clearly understood that I have not been muzzled by the Pres. . . .!"

WHAT OUR READERS SAY

'Cutting Off Nose To Spite Face'

The illogical thinking of the young people of today bewilders me. They are "cutting off their own noses to spite their faces." To ask or demand that all schools remain closed as a protest against the war is the most stupid thing yet. If they don't get credit for courses taken this semester, which they certainly don't deserve if they quit now, should sober some of them.

I imagine some of the soft administrators will give credit as a protest themselves, but they seem to be just aiding and abetting the revolutionaries. Certainly there is a less abusive way to protest than asking that their own colleges be closed.

As Joan Baez protested by withholding her taxes to protest the war, I'd like to withhold my taxes for education. Unfortunately, the majority of students who really want an education would suffer and the revolutionary students wouldn't care.

Van Dyke Disputes Role On Transit

One of your reporters, Mr. Paul Peterzell, in his May 6 column Golden Gate View has distorted facts and made at least one totally false statement. . .

Specifically some of the errors in the column are: (1) the absolutely false statement that I have never offered my own version of what should be done regarding transit in Marin County; (2) the statement that the legislature mandated the bridge district to start immediately on buses and ferries; and (3) the statement that the Greater San Francisco Chamber of Commerce report (compiled by a committee of nine of which I was one) on the bridge district ignores details of modern information.

The facts are: (1) I submitted to the Marin County Transit District a specific plan for financing a comprehensive bus system which is recorded in the official minutes of that agency; (2) the "mandatory" legislation to which reference is made is Chapter 805, Statutes 1969, which does not require but permits the bridge district to go into all types of transit; and (3) one of the basic concerns of the chamber committee which compiled its report was the arbitrary restrictions of current legislation on the use of funds by the bridge district, without any regard to the relative costs of effectiveness of various possible transit systems. . .

Forum Might Be Safety Valve

I am deeply disturbed by your unwillingness to meet at a public form to get the I-J and union dispute before the public. People are suffering because of it and it has become a public issue. The Marin Coalition was trying very hard to make things conducive to having a meeting which might help relieve the tension and the violence. It certainly would have been a safety valve to many people. Talk is certainly less dangerous than some of the violence which is occurring both mentally and physically. Please, I beg of you, if another good opportunity for talk presents itself, be there to plead your case. Time is running out for talking.

County Ordinance And Simple Math

If the Marin ordinance limits political signs to one sign not over 12 square feet on an individual's home or business, why is it that there are countless 4-by-8 foot signs for judge candidates Smallman and Zunino still marring our landscape? Four times 8 is 32, at least in the old math.

Proposition 1 Need Emphasized

Your support for Proposition 1, stated in your editorial of May 11, is most welcome. Those of us who are on the "firing line" in the field of health care have first-hand knowledge of just how serious the shortages are in almost every area of health manpower. California needs more doctors, more dentists, more nurses — in short, more trained health scientists in every field. It will be impossible to insure that Californians in the future will have the high quality health care that they need and demand for themselves and their families if Proposition 1 is not passed. The Independent-Journal's constructive editorial urging a "yes" vote for Proposition 1 on June 2 deserves the thoughtful consideration of every voter.

Simple Solution To School Troubles

How right is it that our colleges can close down now and still give full academic credit to the students? If it is so right in this case, then what other cause or causes can our revered liberal leftist academicians and administrators use to forshorten the school term at will? If it is so right, then why not apply these same goofy reasoning to our high schools and lower grade levels?

If we can just do this, then we will have reached full school integration. No entrance requirements. No racist separatism. No tests and no grading. Just reverie and relevancy for all, plus diplomas, of course.

A bonus is that teachers would not have to be educated people either. Just be relevant and good discussion leaders. Moreover, not much administration would be required, so our OEO people could do the job. What a natural solution. So relevant, and all.

REMEMBER WHEN?

10 YEARS AGO

May 18, 1960

Nikita Khrushchev told a press conference in Paris that further American spy flights over Russia would lead inevitably to war.

Communist China called President Eisenhower a war monger and said Vice President Richard M. Nixon used the "language of an aggressor" in defending U. S. spy flights over the Soviet Union.

20 YEARS AGO

May 18, 1950

Congressman Richard M. Nixon opened his campaign to win Marin's support of his candidacy for the U. S. Senate.

Gen. Omar N. Bradley, chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff, arrived at Hamilton Air Force Base to keynote observance of Armed Forces Day.

TRY AND STOP ME

By BENNETT CERF

Leo Durocher, manager of the Chicago Cubs, recalls one painfully honest umpire named Babe Pinelli. Leo blew his top when Pinelli called a Cub runner out at first when the rival first baseman obviously had his foot off the bag. Pinelli told Durocher out of the corner of his mouth, "I blew that one, Leo, I admit, but I can't reverse myself. Do your act for the TV cameras and let's get on with the game."

Lyndon Johnson's daughter, Lynda Bird Robb, recalls, "When Daddy was campaigning hard in 1960, he became understandably confused one day about exactly where he was, and told one audience, 'Now be sure to vote for every Democrat in Maryland.' The crowd laughed and yelled up to him, 'You're in West Virginia, L.B.!' Without batting an eyelash, daddy yelled back, 'Of course I am, but you've got lots of friends in Maryland. Pass the word!' "

THE DRUMMONDS

Nixon Forced Into New Priority By Discontent Over Cambodia

By ROSCOE and GEOFFREY DRUMMOND

WASHINGTON — The nation's pervasive discontent over Cambodia is forcing President Nixon into a new Vietnam priority.

The President is no longer choosing options. He had that chosen for him: rapid troop withdrawal "above everything else."

Mr. Nixon is more tightly in the grip of the mounting anti-war sentiment than at any time since he came into office.

His range of military maneuver in Indochina is virtually nil. Congress doesn't need to pass any resolutions on getting out. Public opinion has already passed its own resolution, and the President is acting on it.

RICHARD NIXON is even being pushed into a new relationship with his cabinet, some of whose members prove in this instance to be more sensitive to public opinion than he was.

None of these things means the President was wrong in his Cambodian decision. Events to come may well prove he was right. But as a result of everything which came to the surface during the past two weeks, it is our judgment that nothing like it will be repeated lest the President unleash the kind of political furor which drove Lyndon Johnson from office two years ago.

Mr. Nixon is well aware of the powers of the presidency, but he is also aware of its limitations.

THERE ARE TWO significant items of evidence which disclose how fully the President has decided he must operate within the confines of the antiwar sentiment.

At his press conference the President said that on getting peace in Vietnam "I agree with everything the students are attempting to accomplish."

That is true only in a very broad sense. Each wants to end the fighting, but their differences are greater than their agreement.

The students want the United States to get out completely at once. The President wants the United States to get out in stages over a period of time in order to try to get a decent settlement, to strengthen the South Vietnamese forces, and to avoid a Viet Cong massacre of anti-Communist South Vietnamese.

It was at his press conference that Mr. Nixon revealed his new priority. He said in words he had never used before that he puts his withdrawal program "above everything else." Those are tremendously meaningful words— withdrawal "above everything else."

They seem to us the most important three words of the several thousand he used at his press conference.

THE SECOND ITEM of evidence that Richard Nixon is to a large degree the captive of the antiwar movement is that he is setting out such a swift timetable to get U. S. forces out of Cambodia that field commanders are complaining they will have to abandon cleaning out some of the enemy sanctuaries and leave untouched some of the supplies and arms within the area of search. Evidently, the President feels it is necessary to give up some military advantage to win some political advantage on the home front.

In atmosphere and in action, nearly every Nixon response to the anti-Cambodian protest was quite different from his response to the November Moratorium. He went, he saw and, in part, he was conquered. He talked with the young protesters. He heeded some of their views. He named a college chancellor to help him keep wide open a channel of communication from campus to White House.

PRESIDENT NIXON always said he wanted to conduct an "open administration" so that he could continuously have the conflicting and dissenting views of top associates. He was beginning to lose it, came so near to losing it that Interior Secy. Walter Hickel had to write his hear-the-students letter in order to ge through to the President.

The students have won a near-victory, and Mr. Nixon has joined them in large part.

By doing so the President is beginning to restore his contact with the country and may have the support he needs to get out of Vietnam without calamity.

Scientists Use Gamma Rays To Clean Up Sewage

By ROBERT S. ALLEN and JOHN A. GOLDSMITH

WASHINGTON — Every now and then we are reminded that the ecological battle is not yet lost and mankind need not strangle on the products of its advancing space-age technologies.

Such a reminder is provided by the work of Dr. David D. Woodbridge and his colleagues at Florida Institute of Technology. A physicist who spent four years with the space program, Woodbridge now heads that institution's Center for Pollution Research.

WITH A TEAM of scientists, Woodbridge has been focusing on how to use nuclear energy in the war against pollution. Two and a half years ago the group developed a pilot plant for the nuclear irradiation of sewage.

The scientists formed a corporation, Energy Systems Inc., and secured private financing. A couple of months ago the company's first commercial sewage irradiator began operations at Palmdale, Fla.

Results so far at that small plant (it treats 10,000 gallons a day) have been even more promising than were the experimental data generated by the pilot plant. Woodbridge has been spending some time here, as a consequence, looking for an opportunity to build a bigger plant.

No less than seven federal installations in Florida have been cited by state authorities as water pollutants in the state. Woodbridge would like to get a contract to install a larger irradiator at one of those federal facilities.

THE IRRADIATOR designed at Florida Tech uses gamma rays, emitted by Cobalt 60, for secondary treatment of sewage. From that plant, and from their experimental work with the pilot plant, Woodbridge and his colleagues have discovered that sewage can be converted rather easily to potable water.

Bacteria are killed. So are common viruses such as those which cause flu and polio. The irradiation breaks up about 90 per cent of the household detergents which are not "degradable" by biological treatment.

As much as one-third of highly complex pesticides, included in sewage, were shown to have been broken down by irradiation in experimental work conducted by one of Dr. Woodbridge's student scientists.

The output of the irradiator, according to Woodbridge, shows "zero" residual radiation; that is, the effluent is not radioactive at all.

WOODBRIDGE CONTENDS that capital and operating costs, amortized over a 40-year period, using national averages for family size and sewage treatment needs, comes to about $3.50 per month per household.

An additional cost of $3.50 a month would just about double sewage disposal charges in some of the Washington suburbs. In a time of increasing ecological awareness, that may not be too great an added expense.

County Employees Probably Ready To Settle For 2.5 Pct. Increase

The 1,200 county employees at the Civic Center probably will settle for something like a 2.5 per cent pay raise in July and not much else in the way of increased benefits.

As in most bargaining situations, they started out by asking for a 7.5 per pay raise in July, 2.5 per cent raise next January, plus doubling the county contribution for health insurance.

The Social Workers Union tossed in a request for a 35-hour week for good measure.

All of these fringe benefits apparently have been beaten down during the closed-door negotiations, with the county supervisors backing up Administrator Alan Bruce in holding the line.

The county administrator has some convincing arguments to support his austerity approach. Such as: There's a general business recession, and why should employees be getting 7 to 10 per cent raises when the new budget is so tight that the administrator is recommending laying off 30 employees and wiping out three departments?

THE HELL'S ANGELS will be coming to town on Thursday, but host Whitey Litchfield of Bermuda Palms in San Rafael says it'll be calm and orderly.

"They'll be quiet," Litchfield assures us. "They're my friends."

The nightclub owner plans to have a couple of name rock bands to perform at the Hell's Angels' dance Thursday night. He expects about 200 club members, but overall attendance may mount into the thousands.

DOGS WILL BE banned from the county's two beachfront parks—Paradise Park in Tiburon and McNear's Beach in East San Rafael, which is expected to open in June.

Some residents have also suggested that McNear's beach be restricted to Marin County residents. But of course this is impossible, pointed out Pierre Joske, county parks and recreation director.

Since federal and state funds helped buy McNear's Beach, it just isn't legally possible to prohibit out-of-county patrons. They'd feel as put out as we would be if they told us to stay out of Golden Gate Park or Lake Berryessa.

A BEAUTIFUL sketch of the new Hall of Justice and administration building at the Civic Center will again grace the cover of the county budget booklet for 1970-71.

The drawing is a donation by Carl Flindt, who sketched the cover last year. Flindt is well known in Marin, not as an artist but as a Larkspur shoemaker, who does landscape art as a hobby.

Equal Rights For Male Sex! But Alas! To What Avail?

As everyone knows, Miasmapolis is renowned as "the City of Cities." Tourists flock there to admire its spacious homes, the public buildings, the civic center with its lovely park. They go to dwadle at the awning covered sidewalk cafes and to dine in the many charming restaurants.

Recently, however, trouble came to paradise. Certain community leaders — men leaders that is — set out to right what they considered a blemish on the city's social and economic visage.

IT WAS ALL started by one Benny Freedman, raconteur and real estate entrepreneur. He called together a group of business men to form the BUMS—Businessmen Under Marital Stress.

With moving eloquence, Benny struck at women's prevailing attitude of thinking of men as meal tickets rather than as human beings. He lamented the ladies' lack of respect and pointed to a score of shameful indignities heaped upon the male of the species.

"This is a call to arms!" Benny cried, his face flushing, his fist thumping the lectern. "This is revolution! This is revolution to make all other revolutions seem like child's play. I speak for millions of men, young and old, of whatever race, color or creed, who have suffered for years, for centuries, the cursed indignity, the vile injustice of being taken for a meal ticket rather than a human being. We've endured sneers and jeers, we've swallowed outrage and torment—but no more! Our banner is unfurled! Our cause is just! BUMS of the world, unite! You have nothing to lose but your chains!"

IT WAS REVOLUTION indeed. Instant revolution! Rallies were held, demonstrations, speeches—the full catastrophe. Pent up emotions welled and frustrations, dammed for so long, burst and the turbulent flood of revolution inundated the city.

"We want humansex!" was the male cry. "We want to be looked upon as sex objects—just as the women are!"

Teddy Simpleton, the bank manager, captured the imagination of the crowd when he succinctly yelled, "For once in my life I'd like to be looked at with a lustful leer—just once!"

"You bet!" cried Johnny J. Johnson, the sports car dealer. "It would be great to be thought of as a sex object instead of a bank statement!"

"Yeah!" shouted Jimmy Shear. "And how about equal job opportunities—why just recently I lost two jobs because I was beaten out by miniskirts! A man can't compete against miniskirts!"

"EQUAL RIGHTS!" screamed Pete Baldwin. "Think of all the power women have—they control how the money's spent and they live longer than we do and end up with all of it. And don't forget, the hand that rocks the cradle rules the world! Let's get some of that power!"

"We want male-power!"

"Yeah! Yeah! Yeah!"

The men poured out across the city. They took the YWCA by storm. The League of Women Voters' building was battered with bricks, bottles, and a new and dastardly weapon, a bra loaded with buckshot and used as a sling. The DAR fought valiently, as expected, but finally the ladies capitulated by raising a peace signal—a white T shirt with John Wayne's picture on it. The men gracefully accepted their unconditional surrender.

Peace, once again, settled over the beautiful city. The women happily entered into their new role. The began eyeing the men from the ankles up. The bolder ones leered, ogled and whistled. A few patted and pinched here and there. But, oh sadness—the men were too tired to respond—too tired from rocking the cradle.

Picnic To Fete Nine Candidates

Nine GOP candidates for state and federal office are scheduled to appear Saturday at a Gay Nineties picnic sponsored by the Marin Republican Council on Angel Island.

The candidates are Rep. Don H. Clausen, R-First District, seeking reelection; Donald Pinkerton, Raymond H. Shone, Peter H. Behr and Hugh O. Pessner, candidate for the Fourth District seat in the state Senate; Spencer Williams and Evelle J. Younger, candidates for attorney general, and Dr. Max Rafferty, seeking reelection as state superintendent of public instruction.

Picnickers may catch boats leaving the Tiburon Ferry slip each hour beginning at 10 a.m. Beverage will be supplied by the council.

Health Panel To Eye Budget Negotiations

Budget negotiations with the county will be discussed by the Marin Mental Health Advisory Board Wednesday at 8 p.m. in the Coral Room at Marin General Hospital.

A report on the recruitment of personnel will also be presented.

Three Hurt In Two-Car Crash

Three persons were injured in a two-car accident at East Washington and Payran streets Petaluma, Saturday at 10:09 p.m.

One of the drivers, Robert H. Schairer, 48, of Fair Oaks, and his wife, Doris, 48, were treated at Petaluma General Hospital for cuts and bruises. The other driver, Clifford A. Johnson, 48, of 231 Edith Street, Petaluma, was taken to the hospital but not treated.

Police said the car driven by Johnson struck the rear of the car driven by Schairer and stopped at the intersection.

Mobile Dog

FRANKFORT, Ky. (AP) — When two college professors sought travel expenses to observe the habits of the Labrador retriever in Michigan, Finance Commissioner Albert Christen turned them down with this comment: 'It would be cheaper to buy the dog and watch it here.'

San Francisco Man Injured In Accident

Dan Goss, 75, of 1969 Grove Street, San Francisco, suffered a head cut in a three-car collision in the southbound Waldo Tunnel along Highway 101 at 5:30 p.m. Saturday, according to the California Highway Patrol.

Goss was a passenger in a car driven by Ernest Lynwood Britt, 61, of 244 Montana Street, San Francisco, officers said, the middle car in the collision. He was treated at Marin General Hospital.

The Abortion Law And Marin County

By BARBARA HOSMER

The California abortion situation is one of the hot and complicated issues of 1970, with old and new morality, court decisions, medical interpretation of the law, population fears and personal rights heavily involved in the current law and efforts afoot to change it.

California voters may be forced to decide on the November ballot if the current initiative project to further liberalize the state law succeeds. Meantime, Marin women seeking abortion must meet their problem now.

HOW EASY is it to obtain a legal abortion in Marin?

It is estimated that at least 60 per cent of the therapeutic abortions in California are performed in Bay Area hospitals, and a survey of Marin hospitals shows that Marin County physicians are doing an increasing number under terms of the California Therapeutic Abortion Act.

Last year 246 women had therapeutic abortions in Marin hospitals — 163 at Ross General, 82 at Marin General and one at Novato General Hospital.

Already this year 134 abortions have been done here in the first four months — 70 at Ross General and 64 at Marin General Hospital. Few aredone at Novato General.

The number of Marin women requesting therapeutic abortions is increasing rapidly as word of mouth spreads that legal abortion is readily available here, according to Elaine Gutstadt, pregnancy counselor at Marin Planned Parenthood Association in San Rafael.

"The first year after the new law began slowly. Doctors were hesistant even though it was legal.

"And at first girls didn't know about the therapeutic abortion law and that they had a choice. The last six months ts the word got around, there have been more requests," she explains.

THE CURRENT California Therapeutic Abortion Act provides for therapeutic abortion for any woman if the pregnancy resulted from rape or incest, or "if there is substantial risk that continuing the pregnancy would gravely impair the physical or mental health of the mother." Any unmarried girl under the age of 15 is automatically eligible for a therapeutic abortion under the rape clause.

The law also specifies that the abortion request be unanimously approved in advance by a committee of the medical staff of the hospital — by at least two physicians if the pregnancy is under 13 weeks, and three physicians if it is past 13 weeks. The operation must be done by a licensed physician in an accredited hospital and only up to the 20th week of pregnancy.

Most of the therapeutic abortions done in Marin are approved for psychiatric indications — "risk that continuance of the pregnancy would gravely impair the mental health of the mother". In statistics gathered for an informal report by Dr. Leo A. Wagner, Marin Planned Parenthood Medical Advisory Board chairman, more than nine-tenths of the 186 abortions in Marin hospitals the first nine months of last year were approved under the impairment of the mental health clause of the law.

In such cases one or more psychiatrists must attest to that risk in a letter to the abortion approval committee of the hospital. In Marin now, one psychiatrist's letter is sufficient.

PREGNANCY TESTS are given through Planned Parenthood Association in San Rafael for a $5 laboratory fee. Their statistics for the first three months of 1969 and 1970 also reflect not only a greater use of its test service but that far more of the women using the service are indeed pregnant. Last year 25 tested were pregnant and 38 were not. This year so far 103 were pregnant and 56 were not.

The growing number of positive pregnancy tests led Planned Parenthood here to begin professional pregnancy counseling and referral. The counseling is private and confidential and offers every alternative to be explored objectively for the pregnant woman. The pregnancy counseling began a year ago last fall after a girl jumped off the bridge when her pregnancy test was positive, Mrs. Gutstadt said.

If the pregnant woman, often a teen-ager, expresses doubts about bearing a child, the counselor discusses choices open to her: to have the child and rear it, to bear it and place it for adoption, or not to have it. If abortion is the woman's choice the counselor gives her a list of Marin obstetricians and psychiatrists willing to continue the process to apply for a therapeutic abortion.

Next the pregnant woman makes an appointment with an obstetrician on the list and he discusses the problem and has her sign a request to the hospital committee for a therapeutic abortion and writes a letter to accompany it. Then she consults a psychiatrist on the list to discuss her reasons and if approving, he too, writes a letter to the hsopital recommending an abortion.

Approval rate is very high at both Marin General and Ross General Hospitals now. Last year at Ross 163 abortion requests were approved and only one refused.

It takes 10 days to two weeks from the positive pregnancy test until the abortion is performed, unless medical reasons require a longer period.

THUS, IF a pregnant woman finds the sympathetic channels in Marin and follows them through, having a legal abortion here is relatively easy. Though many of the women who have had abortions are teenage or in their early twenties, others are wives who have several children and whose marriages are on very shaky ground, and divorced women having difficulty supporting their current families. Some of their pregnancies are the result of pill-failure.

Marin Women

Although the current abortion law is being interpreted liberally in Marin, excluding physicians who have various objections to doing the operation, there is growing criticism of it on several counts:

1. The procedure required by law is a time-consuming rigamarole, and women seeking legal abortion in California may run into a snag in any step along the way. In other areas the law may be interpreted more strictly.

"A hospital approval committee consists of three doctors. If they are conservative they can hang it up," says Elaine Gutstadt.

"You hear that 90 to 95 per cent of abortion requests are approved in the state," says Mrs. Cheriel Jensen of Sunnyvale, who is leading the Abortion Initiative Project to get a measure on the November ballot removing most of the legal restrictions. "But you never hear about the woman who runs up against the hospital committee that doesn't even accept abortion applications, or the one who becomes discouraged by the psychiatrist's intimidation, or the one the obstetrician won't give abortion information because he knows the hospital won't approve any application.

"WOMEN ALWAYS will choose to reproduce rather than get intimidated," says Mrs. Jensen, who has studied the California abortion problem closely for many years.

Alternatives for them are to seek a possibly dangerous criminal abortion through the underground, go to an illegal abortion clinic in Mexico, bear an unwanted child or seek a more liberal interpretation hospital in California. Along with the Bay Area, San Diego and Los Angeles counties are therapeutic abortion centers, says Thomas A. Knight, Marin Planned Parenthood executive director. Abortions on request are legal in England, and charter groups sometimes make the flight from the East Coast, and in Japan, where the cost is $20, says Knight.

2.The law does not allow abortion for possible birth defects, common to children of women who have had German measles early in the pregnancy. In the law passed by the legislature in 1967, this provision was vetoed by Gov. Ronald Reagan. Of 10 states with new abortion laws, only California omits possible fetal deformitly as a legal reason for abortion.

3. Abortion may soon be on an unfair quota system, forcing the excess to seek criminal abortions. It is up to each hospital how it interprets the abortion act — liberally or strictly. With only one-fifth of California hospitals doing many abortions, estimates are that 5,000 were done in 1968 and another 5,000 the first six months of 1969, an accelerating trend mirrored in Marin. The minority of hospitals liberally approving legal abortions are getting an increasing patient load ,and already in other states hospitals are limiting the number of abortion patients they can accept, leading to a quota system.

4. The law is vague. The clause — "if there is substantial risk that the pregnancy would gravely impair the physical or mental health of the mother" — requires much guesswork by the physician. As one Marin psychiatrist put it, "you need a crystal ball" to conform to the law, which can leave the doctor in legal jeopardy.

5. The high cost of therapeutic abortion — $500 to $700 in Marin — means safe abortion only for the affluent, or those who can qualify for Medi-Cal. Medi-Cal is possible for any medical expense if the woman is single and not living with the father, or if she is married to an unemployed or disabled man. She must have an income below $140 a month and less than $600 is personal possessions. She must be judged qualified for Medi-Cal by the County Dept. of Public Social Services and if she is under 21 her relatives will be asked to contribute to her medical needs, according to Betty Presley, DPSS Marin director. She could not estimate the number of therapeutic abortions done in Marin with Medi-Cal aid, stating that the records simply show all kinds of medical assistance under one general heading. A few private health insurance plans also pay abortion expense.

6. An unknown but estimated high number of illegal abortions continue daily in unsavory circumstances, many causing health complications and are the leading cause of maternal death.

7. Homes for unwed pregnant women are beyond capacity; illegitimate births are at an all-time high, and not enough adoptive parents or foster homes are available.

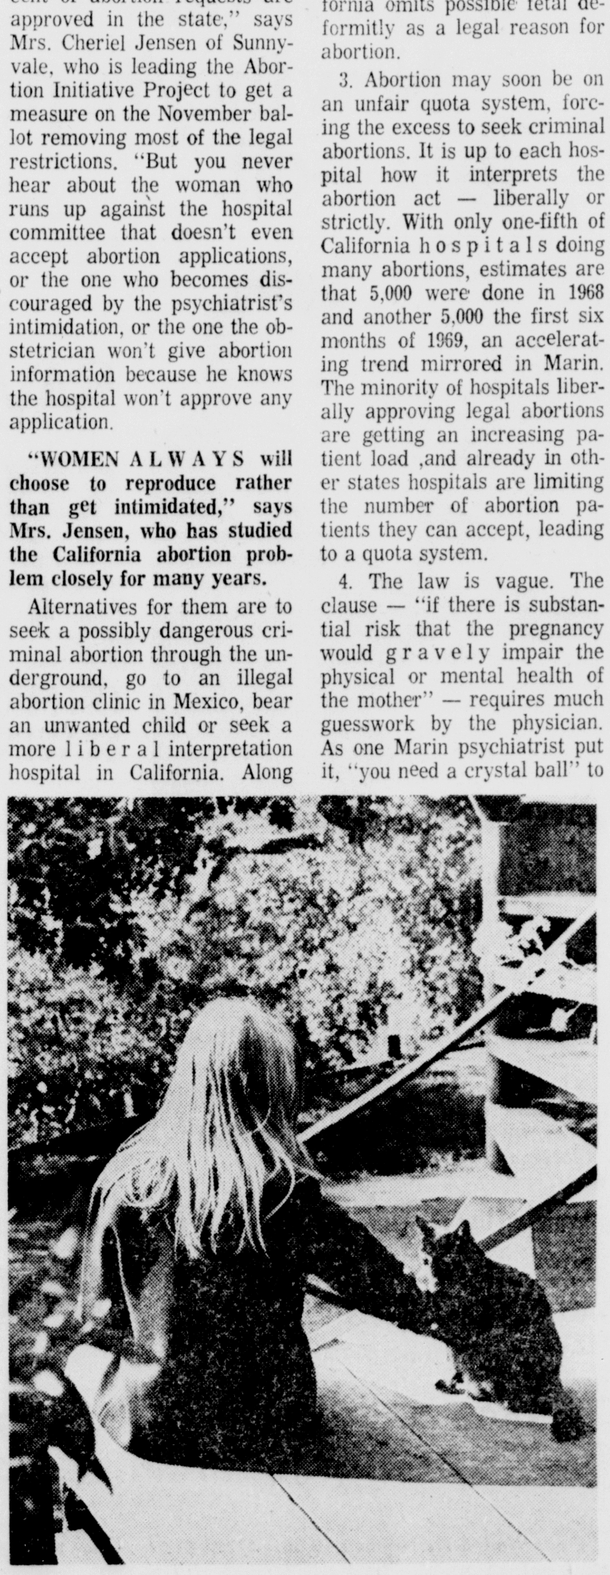
LEAVING THE moral question of whether abortion at various stages of fetal development is taking a life or not to the individual pregnant women's own conscience and religious belief, as no one is ever forced to have an abortion, there is a rapidly increasing groundswell to knock over laws that interfere with a woman's right to control her own biological life.

The impassioned plea by Republican State Sen. Lorraine Beebe to the Michigan State Senate sums up the feeling of the anti-abortion law crusaders:

"Can you say, 'I'm pregnant and delighted?' Or can you say, 'I'm pregnant and I'm desperate?' Do you know what it feels like? No, gentlemen, you do not. You can't possibly know. You cannot impose your will. The woman must make the decision and she must live with it."

Increasingly women's rights groups and medical and other professional organizations across the country are crusading for the right to abortion when the woman and her physician agree on it. Adding weight to the campaign to loosen restriction on abortion are doctors themselves and population - concerned organizations such as Planned Parenthood and Zero Population Growth.

In 1967 the staid American Medical Association favored therapeutic abortion when there is substantial risk that a baby will be born with grave physical or mental defects, where a pregnancy is likely to result in serious impairment of a woman's physical or mental health, or when the pregnancy resulted from rape or incest. This was a liberal viewpoint in those days.



However, it was the same year, 1967, that Colorado led the way in liberalizing its abortion law, and California followed by passing the present law, which incorporates the AMA stand excepting the birth defects clause.

SINCE THEN 10 or more states have liberalized their laws and others are facing the issue now. This year Hawaii wiped off all legal restrictions to abortion except that the operation be performed by a licensed doctor in an accredited hospital and tagged on a 90 day residency requirement to prevent an influx of seeking the operation. Associated Press reports show that 587 abortions have been done in Hawaii since the restrictions were lifted on March 1. Many

A CASE HISTORY

Anne Was Pregnant And She Didn't Want To Have A Baby

By BETH GAEDDERT

Anne reached for the door knob, took a deep breath and opened the frosted glass door lettered, "Planned Parenthood, Walk In."

Orange and black posters on the walls blared, "Over Population Is Everybody's Problem," but it didn't mean much to Anne.

All she knew was that she was pregnant and she didn't want to have a baby.

Anne, not her real name, is one of 133 women who sought and had therapeutic abortions in Marin County this year. Last year a total of 246 therapeutic abortions were done at Ross and Marin General Hospitals. According to Marin Planned Parenthood most of the women they have counseled for abortions were between the ages of 15 and 21, single and living at home. And, most were done by a simple surgical procedure called dilation and curettement, in which the cervex is dilated or stretched and the uterus is scraped with a spoon-sized loop-ended tool. For this operation, usually done up to the 12th week of pregnancy, about a day and a half hospitalization is required.

Even though Anne lives in Marin County, in the Bay Area where an estimated 60 per cent of all California abortions are performed, she was in her 12th week of pregnancy before she heard from a friend that Planned Parenthood offered pregnancy counseling.

Now, sitting in the office, Anne, 23 and single, almost had to concentrate on looking worried. Just the thought that she might not be forced to go through with the pregnancy was a great relief. And one of the hardest parts was over — she had told her parents.

She thought of her family physician who had given her a pregnancy test and insisted he couldn't help her get an abortion — even when she demanded he must know something.

Someone called her name and Anne followed a nice-looking thirtyish woman into a small office. She was first asked if a doctor had confirmed her pregnancy. The choices she faced as a pregnant woman were discussed and the counselor let Anne do most of the talking. Anne told her she wanted an abortion.

"From the first minute I knew I was pregnant I had no intention of carrying this through," Anne told her. The thought of having a child, giving it up for adoption and never knowing who was taking care of it was one Anne said she could not live with. And asking her parents to take over a child would not be desirable or fair in any way, Anne said. At this point in her life, she said, there simply was no place for a child. Marriage to her boyfriend was not a possibility. And even if it was, she was not ready for a child.

The counselor assured her abortions were legal and safe. In fact, she said, when done under hospital conditions, safer than having tonsils removed.

The question, "Why did you wait so long?" was one Anne was asked over and over again in the next few weeks by the counselor, a gynecologist and a psychiatrist.

Her reply was always, "I don't know, I don't know. I thought about it all the time but I was so damn scared. I knew I wanted an abortion, but how to get one without letting my parents know . . It's not so much what they'd do — at this age they couldn't do anything—really." Her parents were sympathetic and understanding as are most parents when they find out, according to a Marin Planned Parenthood pregnancy counselor.

During an hour and a half long consultation and explanation of procedures and probable costs, Anne was given a list of Marin gynecologists and psychiatrist. From the office she made an appointment with a gynecologist for four days later.

In the meantime she had to get together from $500 to $700.

Anne thought the gynecologist was harsh but decided later it was just his manner of being straight forward in questioning her about her sincerity of going through with an abortion. Although not the type to lose composure quickly, she found tears coming when she told him she waited so long because she simply hadn't know she could legally get a therapeutic abortion. The doctor said she was too far along for a D and C and would have to wait two and a half weeks to have an abortion by amniocentesis.

Dr. Warren Rogers, head of gynecology and obstetrics at Marin General Hospital explained that the D and C isn't done after the 12th week (after the woman's last period — not conception) because the scraping or suction would cause a severe loss of blood.

Amniocentesis, Dr. Rogers explained, is the name for the procedure of extracting fluid from the uterus for any reason such as to check the development of a fetus. All gynecologists know this basic procedure, he said.

Amniocentesis is done between the 16th and 20th weeks of pregnancy because the fetus is no longer deeply attached to the uterine wall.

Anne's doctor told her she would be given an anesthetic (sodium pentothal) and about seven ounces of uterine fluid would be removed and replaced with a salt solution. It is done by an abdominal injection. This causes the uterus to start contractions in a day or two. She would feel labor pains, just as those experienced in a full-term pregnancy, and then expel the fetus.

Anne left the half-hour examination relieved that the abortion would indeed be done safely and legally. But, anxious to have it over with, she was disappointed that she had to wait again.

The next step was to make an appointment with a psychiatrist from the list. In another week she was able to see a Kentfield psychiatrist, who talked to her for over an hour.

"Now I do need a psychiatrist," she said after the exhausting questioning period. Later she had trouble recalling exactly what they had discussed.

Again he had stressed the

HELEN HELP US!

By HELEN BOTTEL

'Parents Should Copy Kids Until They See Themselves As We Do'

DEAR HELEN:

May I make a modest proposal?

It's well known that kids latch on to fads, habits, etc. that irk the Establishment. So why doesn't the Establishment copy their fads, and thereby put them out to pasture?

If parents approved pot and enlisted Junior's aid in buying lids; if Dad went the long-hair, bell-bottom route while Mom took to thigh-high skirt and guitars; if both announced they were against such crass and hypocritical things as making money, keeping up with the Joneses (especially as concerns cars, clothes and backyard swimming pools) and getting out of bed in the morning — I wonder how long kids would think these actions were cool?

Maybe this is the way to make young people wake up to their responsibilities: Copy 'em until they see themselves as we see them. Take on their codes of ethics until they find they're unworkable — let them see that love, love, love is not enough.

Do any of you oldsters dare try it? — EXPERIMENTER

DEAR EXPERIMENTER:

Count me out. I might discover the carefree life so much fun I'd end up on a tropical island — living it. — H.

DEAR HELEN:

Your interesting column contains a tremendous amount of information for people in all walks of life. Now your help is needed in clearing up a myth that has been making the rounds for much too long.

You stated recently that a person can get a high school diploma if he signs up for courses offered by the Navy. Not so. Neither the Navy nor any other branch of the United States Armed Forces grants a high school diploma. This is only issued by a school.

If a person takes courses from the Armed Forces Institute (USAFI) those course records must then be transferred to some institution that grants diplomas. This is often the Adult Education Department of the local school district.

If a person takes and passes the General Education Development Test he receives what is known as an equivalency letter, which shows he has the equivalent of a high school diploma. Though this is not a diploma, most but not all employment offices recognize it in lieu of one.

If a veteran is in doubt about how to get a diploma, he should contact his local adult high school department. — J.D., ADULT HIGH SCHOOL PRINCIPAL

DEAR J.D.:

Thanks for setting me straight — and doing it so graciously. Your information will be helpful to a great many G.I.s and their families. — H.

DEAR HELEN:

You asked for the names of the authors of "Mothers are People" and the slang-poem titled "Psyche-delirium Tremens." The first verse is by Betty Billup, and it's one of my favorites. The second was written by Jane Goodsell, a very clever gal. — READER.

DEAR BETTY AND JANE:

Quoting is the highest form of praise, so I hope you won't take it amiss that I quoted you first, printed your names second, and only now am asking your permission.

You know, a writer's second-biggest frustration is that people often remember what we say, but seldom who said it. That's why so many of us get our names changed to Anonymous or Author Unknown. — H.

This column is dedicated to family living, so if you're having kid trouble or just plain trouble, let Helen help you. Address Helen Bottel in care of the Independent-Journal.

Legal Abortion And Marin County

other states' new liberalized laws are so recent that their effects are just beginning to show.

California may well be on its way to lifting current legal restrictions that require women and doctors to go through a chain of procedures that critics call a charade.

The change may soon come from any of three directions: new legislation from the state legislature, a ballot iniative voted on by the people of California, or from court decision.

In the legislative hopper now is a bill sy Sen. Anthony Beilenson (D-Beverly Hills) proposing exactly what the California Medical Association approved in March — that abortion be strictly a medical matter between the patient and her doctor. It is a surgical procedure, and like any other surgical procedure, would be governed only by the state Medical Practices Act. It also states that no doctor shall be compelled to perform an act that vilates his good judgment, and neither dector nor any hospital be required to perform abortion (or any other act) that violates personally-held ethical or moral phinciples.

However, if doctor or hospital does not wish to do an abortion, the patient must be assisted in obtaining care elsewhere, by referral.

This is a truly pioneering measure, says Dr. A. Halnan White of Kentfield, because it doesn't require that abortion be done in a hospital.

"This means that if five doctors get together and set up a clinic to do abortions on Tuesday and Thursday mornings, they can do it," Dr. White explained. It cuts the cost to a patient who may not be able to afford a therapeutic abortion under the current law which requires hospitalization and drives the cost much higher than a criminal abortion costs, he said.

"We want to stop forcing women into the hands of criminal abortionists. We want to save the lives of our women, That's our real concern."

Dr. White, Kentfield psychiatrist, wrote the original abortion recommendation for the Marin Medical Society, which in turn introduced it to the state medical association last year. The CMA set up a committee which studied it and held hearings the past year, then passed essentially what the Marin doctors had drawn up.

"THE INTENT of the resolution is to abolish all laws on abortion in California and to allow the patient and the doctor to be the only two concerned, beside the husband, to decide when abortion is needed," Dr. White explains.

Hearings on the new Beilenson bill have not been set, but meantime the CMA is contacting legislators, the governor and medical societies to inform them about the bill.

On another front the courts may wipe out abortion restrictions in pending and recent decisions. A landmark decision on the Belous case came from the California Supreme Court last September: the court declared unconstitutionally vague the pre-1967 abortion law that permitted abortion only when "necessary to preserve" the life of the woman. It also said that risks of childbirth affected a woman's right to life.

In the words of Beverly Hills attorney Zal Leavy, "The real thrust of the decision was enunciation for the first time of certain basic rights of women over their own bodies, and this is an important stepping stone in the movement throughout the United States to abrogate all arbitrary restrictions against termination of pregnancy."

Other test cases are being brought in California and other states, and the United States Supreme Court has agreed to hear an abortion case appealed by another state.

MEANTIME A grassroots movement to get an initiative measure on the ballot to end abortion restrictions and to authorize a licensed physician to perform an abortion whenever asked by a pregnant woman it underway through the state. Two Peninsula women, Mrs. Jensen and Mrs. Sally Yoakum launched the volunteer drive, and with some 100 full-time volunteers and part-time chairmen throughout the state are collecting petition signatures to gain the 325,173 names of registered voters needed to place the measure on the November ballot.

Religious and other moral opposition remain, but the trend across American is toward individual rights in personal and family-oriented matters, and Californians may find themselves with fewer restrictions on abortion as a common means of family limitation and population control.

A Case History—Anne Seeks Abortion Help

fact that she had waited a long time and he wanted to make sure of her sincerity.

"Sometimes I don't know why I just didn't go drive off somewhere," she told him about the fear of being forced to have a baby. But an even deeper fear that it would be deformed because of pills and other potions she had taken in her early weeks of pregnancy caused her too much embarrassment to mention.

The psychiatrist asked her to pay $30 for the office call and $20 for the letter he would write to the hospital abortion board.

After a second visit to the gynecologist who checked her again and then gave the usual pre-surgery exam, Anne was told to check into the hospital three days later, on a Sunday evening. (This was four weeks after her first visit to Planned Parenthood.)

At 8:30 a.m., the following Monday she was taken to surgery and given two pain shots then the abdominal injection administered by the gynecologist. A few minutes later she was resting in the recovery room and then taken back to the room she shared with a cancer patient.

While the anesthetic wore off she slept most of the day and night. The next day she watched television and talked with a visitor. Labor pains began that evening.

The pains lasted through the night, and Anne asked for the pain shots promised by her doctor. (Through some fault in communication between doctor and nurses, they were not given.)

At mid-morning the next day the expulsion occured while Anne was in the restroom. "I felt like I was going to drop everything," she said.

Talking about it later she said, "It was kind of depressing and it was kind of happy. I mean I don't care how badly you want to get rid of it, you still feel kind of bad right then. I started thinking how a girl who is sitting in a home for unwed mothers feels sitting there for nine months and then she has to give it up. It's something that's there but it's hard to explain."

After it was over she crawled into bed and took a nap, then woke up and requested a strawberry malt for lunch. That night she rested and early the next morning she went home. Her total hospital stay was three days and four nights.

She rested at home for four days and then returned to work.

Visibly relieved and able to walk into Planned Parenthood knowing her whole future was hers to determine, Anne returned to talk to the same counselor and explain exactly how it went. Anne thanked them for their help and they thanked her for returning to talk about it because most girls don't. Anne was asked to come back if she felt she needed more counseling.

Beside the psychiatrist bill Anne paid $300 to the gynecologist, for the injection and $28 for the two office visits. Hospital costs were another $320, the anesthetist charged $40 and the bill for television in the hospital was $7. The total cost was $745.

Household Pesticides—How To Use The Least Dangerous

By ARTHUR E. ROWSE

WASHINGTON — In view of the many actions taken in recent months to reduce the use of certain pesticides, many householders are wondering which ones pose the least danger to their health and the environment in general.

Ardent conservationists, of course, advocate getting along with as few pesticides as possible on the theory that all of them have the power to cause at least some harm even if only by accident.

At the same time, few people can live comfortably with an army of ants or silverfish in the kitchen, and few home gardeners can raise vegetables or flowers without at least some insecticides.

For those who must use pesticides but want to use the least perilous, the first step is to eliminate the more persistent types. These are generally the chlorinated hydrocarbons such as DDT. Others are heptachlor, benzene hexachloride (BHC), aldrin, dieldrin, endrin, chlordane, toxaphene and lindane.

Of these nine chemicals, only DDT has been banned for home and garden use by the U.S. Department of Agriculture, the Federal agency with the prime responsibility for controlling the sale of pesticides. The use of lindane in pellets (but not other forms) has also been banned.

Also banned is a common weedkiller, 2, 4, 5-T, but the use of 2, 4-D is still permissible. The Department has taken steps to reduce the proportion of arsenic in other products to 2 percent or less in order to minimize the harmful effects if swallowed by children.

In further action, the USDA has required distributors of the popular Vapona insect strips containing DDVP to bear labeling precautions against their use in rooms with very old or very young people.

The Department also has taken action to restrict the use of mercury-based chemicals used to treat farm seeds, but these are not generally used around homes.

For home and garden use, there are several non-persistent but effective pesticides available. They include malathion, ronnel, carbaryl and pyrethrum. All break down rapidly and disappear within a day or two. However, some are harmful to beneficial insects, too.

Malathion is effective in killing ants, cockroaches, food mites, pantry beetles, silverfish, firebrats and spiders. Ronnel is effective against most of the same bugs. Carbaryl is a garden chemical that unfortunately is particularly deathly to honey bees.

Most household aerosol sprays contain pyrethrum, another chemical that dissipates rapidly in the air. Labels contain the chemical names.

All four of these non-persistent chemicals are also low in toxicity (ability to poison human beings). And they are as effective as the persistent chemicals when applied. But repeated sprayings are sometimes necessary and thus reduce some of their advantage.

For best results and least harm, follow directions on labels carefully. Be especially cautious not to use surface sprays in the air. Remember that all pesticides are poisons. They can be more harmful to humans than to the bugs they are supposed to kill, if not used properly.

Keep Cakes

Most cakes taste best the day they are baked, but a few like pound cake and angelfood, benefit from overnight storage before they are cut and served. A frosted cake will keep better than a cake that has no frosting because the frosting usually helps to keep the cake moist.

ART REVIEW

Varda Collection Shows His Charm

By LAURA DEVENDORF

Despite his fame, by today's standards, collage paintings by Varda seem almost picturesque. They are neither flamboyant tonal assaults nor deeply intellectual excercises in geometry. And they possess neither mind-bending symbolism nor studied shocks.

This probably explains why Varda's show through May 21 in Alexander Hall at the San Francisco Theological Seminary in San Anselmo has such an easy feeling of nostalgia about it. There is nothing in it that is disruptive or hard to understand. Instead, these paintings are simply decorative assemblings of cloth, paper and paint into themes which have all the charm of children's fairy tale illustrations.

Up close they aren't much. The brocade and upholstery scraps seem what they are, rags and leavings. The paint is often muddy or thin and there are frequent smudges and fingerprints which add an air of grubbiness.

At a distance all that usually changes. As if by some enchantment, the scrubby, messy pieces weld themselves into bright, shimmering fantasies of boats on the Nile, Viking ships, castles, mythical villages, heraldic shields and other legendary things and places.

Within each, the several neat divisions of space are independently alive with the effects of colors, textures and sheens played against each other to the rhythm of painted shapes and button-like dots.

Whether or not these works live up to the quote of Varda's teacher, Emanuel Mavroulas, which accompanies them, "A picture vies with the splendor of the bird and the opulence of the flower and surpasses them both," is debatable. It seems also of small importance.

Varda's collages are best enjoyed when no more depth or purpose is demanded except that they are comfortable, that they are fun and that they have a certain genuine joy. Accepted on that level and for exactly what they are, that seems enough.

Office-Warehouse Before City Council For Appeal

A decision of the San Rafael Planning Commission which ignored recommendations of the city's planning department will be appealed to the city council at 8 p.m. today.

The planning commission last month issued a use permit to Dino Ghilotti for an office-warehouse complex at 517 Jacoby Street, without requiring him, as the planning department had recommended, to dedicate a 30-foot strip of land at the rear of the property for a proposed public street and to improve, or provide bonds and agreements for the improvement of, one-half of the proposed street section along his property.

The commission action is being appealed by owners of property adjacent to Ghilotti's who face restrictions on development of their property until the road is constructed.

If the council upholds the commission's action, the proposed road, if and when it is built, would have to be narrowed behind Ghilotti's property.

An appeal of another planning commission decision will also be before the council. Montecito Properties is appealing a requirement attached to approval of site improvements of a Standard Oil station at 475 Third Street which would require Montecito to bear the cost of widening Second Street.

The proposed ordinance regulating the keeping of animals in the city will be back before the council, as will the proposal for the city to take over the Glenwood storm water pump station from the San Rafael schools.

TROUT DERBY DRAWS MATURE 8-YEAR-OLDS

The sign says the pool is for 8-year-olds and younger anglers, so possibly these over-8s are just showing the young fry how. The occasion was Saturday's opening of the two-day, fifth annual Trout Derby sponsored by the Mill Valley Optimist Club in Old Mill Park. Some 2,100 fish had been planted for the event and bout 1,800 were reported by the club to have been caught.

Could Be Tax Rise For Corte Madera

Even though Corte Madera's proposed budget for the next fiscal year is about $10,000 less than this year's, it could mean a 29-cent tax rate increase per $100 assessed valuation.

How could it cost Corte Madera property owners more to raise less? Simple; the town council this year used reserve funds to balance its budget rather than levying higher property taxes.

However, the same juggling can't work again because of lack of funds, Town Mgr. Ronald L. Usher has indicated. While the dollar amount of the two budgets is close, it will take the $72,000 tax hike raised by the additional 29 cents to cover the town's proposed flood control plan and pay recent salary increases.

The tax rate, which now stands at 99 cents per $100 assessed valuation, must be increased if town residents are to enjoy a continued level of services now offered, Usher said.

Usher said 20 cents of his proposed $1.28 cent tax rate, which would buy the town a budget of about $990,000, is attributable to his recommendation that the council levy its maximum allowable rate for flood control.

At the maximum rate, the town's flood control coffers could accrue about $52,000 per year. If additional funds are needed in a given year, they will have to be approved by the voters, Usher said.

Even though the town does not yet have a flood control plan, and won't have until November, Usher said he supports raising funds now.

"We want to be in the position of when they (design engineers) say in November we need a pump, we will be in the position to purchase a pump without waiting to raise the funds," he emphasized.

Usher submitted his proposed budget earlier this month to the town council with a recommended increase of 34 cents.

However, the council, at an employee salary hearing last week, chopped 6 cents from the recommendation by refusing to budget reserve retirement funds and rejecting the manager's 12.5 per cent employee pay hike request. The board granted 10 per cent increases to all but four employees.

Comparable figures in the current budget and the proposed budget (in parentheses) are: materials, supplies, and services $280,411 ($303,842); capital outlay $228,234 ($124,310); debt services $17,483 ($17,083); and reserves $50,000 ($92,879).

SERVING ALL OF MARIN COUNTY

THIRD SECTION SAN RAFAEL, CALIFORNIA, MONDAY, MAY 18, 1970 17

Health Officer Will Fight Elimination Of Baby Clinic

A recommendation by the county administrator that the well-baby Clinic be cut out of the health department budget drew fire today from County Health Officer Carolyn B. Albrecht.

"This is a very worthwhile preventive service," said Dr. Albrecht. "To do away with it completely would be a mistake."

The elimination of the well-baby clinic program was proposed by County Administrator Alan Bruce in his May 5 report, in which he suggested laying off 31 employees, eliminating three departments, and cutting back on the budgets of almost every county department.

The well-baby clinic is a program under which teams of physicians, nurses and volunteer workers set up child health conferences in various communities to give infants and pre-kindergarten children physical examinations and routine immunization. Mothers of these infants are counseled on nutrition, growth and behavior. The well-baby clinics have been a part of the health department program since the department was established in 1942, said Dr. Albrecht.

Last year, a total of 1,170 children from 585 families were served by the well-baby clinics. The children made 2,885 visits to the clinics.

The proposed budget for the well-baby clinic for next year is $28,752, which means about $24 per child per year. "We feel that's cheap preventive medicine" said Dr. Albrecht.

She said she went along with a Feb. 26 recommendation by the county administrator that a fee schedule be set up for the well-baby clinic, calling for up to $3 per visit for families that have a certain level of income.

However, she intends to fight the elimination of the program when the budget cuts are considered during the June budget sessions by the Marin County Board of Supervisors.

Jury Acquits Petaluma Man

A Sonoma County Superior Court jury has acquitted John E. Bush, 40, of Petaluma, who had been charged with the March 4 robbery of the El Rancho Tropicana, Santa Rosa.

John S. Jacobs, 26, of San Francisco, arrested with Bush by Novato police after the robbery was found guilty last week and sentenced to state prison.

Jacobs told the jury that he had picked up Bush at his Petaluma home after the robbery to ride with him to San Francisco.

Clarence E. Bohn, a handwriting expert of the Federal Bureau of Investigation, testified that Bush had written the robbery note given to the switchboard operator in the $143 theft.

Cocktail Party For Handy Is Scheduled

A no-host cocktail reception for Wendell T. Handy, candidate for secretary of state, will be held Thursday from 5 to 7 p.m. at Sabella's Restaurant in Mill Valley.

The reception is open to the public and is being sponsored by the Marin County Republican Central Committee.

Rosenberg Coffees

Donald Rosenberg, candidate for Marin Municipal Court judge, will appear at coffees scheduled for 10 a.m. tomorrow at the home of Dr. and Mrs. Robert Jeffrey, 178 Palm Avenue, San Rafael, and 8 p.m. Thursday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Formici, 307 Oak Avenue, San Rafael.

Attendance Normal At Tamalpais High

Attendance appeared normal today at Tamalpais High School as approximately 450 students returned to classes after a three-day boycott to protest the expanding war in Indochina, school officials reported.

On Thursday faculty members at the school voted to continue regularly scheduled classes for the remainder of the school year, but to add programs concerning the national crisis to regular classroom work.

By a 40-34 vote, the staff also voted to hold special educational programs at the school "for those students committed to action" on the war and to give students credit for the programs, contingent on individual teacher and parent approval.

Tamalpais Principal Raymond J. Bell has expressed opposition to the special program proposal, which may come up for discussion at today's meeting of the Tamalpais Union High School District board at 8 p.m. at Redwood High School.

Youth Is Cited On Weapon, Alcohol Counts

A 17-year-old San Rafael youth was cited by San Rafael police on suspicion of having a concealed weapon and beer in his possession and having open cans of beer in his car Friday after a patrolman stopped him for speeding in front of 130 Highland Avenue.

The youth, Jeffrey Charles Caldwell of 311 Coleman Drive, is to appear in Marin Municipal Court May 26.

Police found a six pack and three bottles of beer in the youth's car trunk; another can in the glove compartment and two open cans inside the car.

A 16-inch bone handled knife was found in a sheath under the driver's seat, according to police.

Four passengers in the car were warned and released, police said.

Car Recovered

A 1964 Chevrolet station wagon owned by Edward J. Chavez of 59 Bolinas Avenue, San Anselmo, and stolen in Mill Valley last December was recovered Friday in a parking lot at 355 Canal Street, San Rafael police reported today. The car's right rear tire was flat, according to police.

Hiker Safe After Night On Tamalpais

About 30 sheriff's deputies, some mounted on horseback, plus scores of volunteers searched the Kent Lake area for almost 18 hours yesterday for a missing 17-year-old hiker before he finally found his own way out.

Stephen Wayne German of 150 Lovell Avenue, Mill Valley, had left home Saturday afternoon saying he planned to be home at 5 p.m. When he did not return by dark his parents, Mr. and Mrs. William German called police, and deputies found the youth's car by Kent Lake about midnight.

Undersheriff Sidney Stinson said that deputies combed roads and trails in the dark, but the overall search began in earnest at daybreak. In addition to men on foot and horseback, a helicopter also looked for the youth.

German said later that he decided to spend the night by Kent Lake when he became lost and in the morning he hiked up to Bolinas Ridge where he met two motorcyclists about 4 p.m. After receiving directions from them he walked to Highway 1 about six miles north of Bolinas and got a ride to Mill Valley where he called home. The youth was in good shape except for blistered feet.

"Emergency situations aren't optional. That's why 4 disc brakes are standard on every Mercedes-Benz."

You know the feeling. The hour's late. The road is clear. The slow metronome of the wipers keeps you company. Your mind is already home.

Then it happens.

Just over a rise you find a trailer truck sprawled in your path. There is only one thing between you and a 20-ton roadblock.

Your brakes.

In a Mercedes-Benz, those brakes would all be the disc type. Not just the front ones. All four. We offer no options. We believe that the braking system is one of the most vital mechanisms on an automobile. So it must be the best we can build.

Disc brakes better resist fade.

It's a stubborn attitude. And an expensive one.

But anything less is not good enough for Mercedes-Benz.

When you've got to stop

Disc brakes are superior to common drum brakes for three reasons.

One, a disc brake is better able to dissipate heat—a major cause of brake fade.

Two, there's far more effective braking area on a disc brake than on an ordinary drum brake, giving you more stopping power.

Three, a disc brake is less affected by water and you face less danger of brake failure, even in a cloudburst. In addition, the Mercedes-Benz braking system is designed to give a controlled straight-stop—even when you have to stop short from high speeds. (Which is a polite way of saying "panic stop.")

You'll feel this extra margin of control and braking power the first time you test stop a Mercedes-Benz.

Because we believe, when you've got to stop, you've got to stop.

But don't stop here

There's more to a Mercedes-Benz than just stopping. After all, the joy is in the driving.

In fact, a Mercedes-Benz may even change your driving habits. Because if your knuckles now whiten every time you face a sudden curve in a swarm of flickering brake lights, a Mercedes-Benz could prove to be a relaxing experience.

Our four-wheel independent suspension plants those tires on the road like no ordinary suspension could. Helps you take curves in one, smooth swing—evenly between the white line and the guardrail. And the next time you drive your own car, count how many times you have to make those tiny steering adjustments to keep it from wandering. Our recirculating ball-type steering, even with power added, helps to give you a certain "feel" for the road and a confidence that the car will track where you aim it.

We believe that a 70-mile-an-hour expressway is no place to play with your steering wheel.

Look for the little things

A lot of "near great" cars missed being great because of sloppy workmanship, slapdash assembly or lack of attention to details.

So after you test drive a Mercedes-Benz and see the big differences in handling and control, take a few moments to examine the little differences. Run a matchbook around the hood, trunk and door openings. See how the gap is exactly the same throughout. (Try that on your present car.)

Notice that every seam has been filled and smoothed, like the finish of fine china.

Slam a door. It sounds like a vault's.

Reach under the dash. Not a wire to be felt.

Look at the trim. If it looks like wood, it is wood—not plastic. If it looks like chrome, it is chrome—not plastic.

We could take some shortcuts, make some compromises. Our cars would still be good enough for most people. But they wouldn't be good enough for Mercedes-Benz.

HOW TO PLAY

WINNING BRIDGE

By ALFRED SHEINWOLD

Don't Imitate Target Men At The Amusement Arcades

Many years ago, every amusement park had a man who stuck his head through a hole in the backdrop and dared the general public to throw a baseball and hit him in the face.

The public got much healthy exercise out of this innocent pastime, but somehow I never envied the man his job. It seemed to me that there were better ways to earn a living, and I get the same impression when I see a certain kind of play at the bridge table.

Opening lead — ♣ K

West led the king of clubs and continued with the ace. South ruffed, drew a round of trumps with the ace and then led a trump to dummy's ten.

This put declarer in the dummy so that he could lead a spade and try a finesse with the jack.

West was glad to win the spade trick with the queen, and in the fullness of time East won two diamond tricks to defeat the contract.

"That was a very sporting spade finesse you took," North remarked at the end of the hand. "You could have made four hearts without a finesse, so I'm sure they enjoyed having a chance to beat you."

SET UP LONG SUIT

After ruffing the second club, South should draw one round of trumps with the ace to find out what sort of trump break he is running into.

When both opponents follow suit, South can afford to take the ace of diamonds and continue with a low diamond.

Both opponents follow suit, and back comes a spade through the South hand. South steps up with the ace of spades and gives up another diamond.

DISDAINS FINESSE

East returns another spade, and South puts up the king of spades, disdaining the finesse. South then draws another round of trumps with the king and leads a trump to dummy's ten in order to discard the jack of spades on a good diamond.

If the five missing diamonds broke 4-1 South might be unable to set up and cash a diamond trick safely, but he could then fall back on the spade finesse. Taking an early spade finesse simply gave the enemy a free shot to defeat the contract.

DAILY QUESTION

Partner opens with 1-no trump, you respond two clubs (the Stayman Convention) and partner bids two hearts.

It is up to you again, with:

♠- 10 7 4 3
♥- 7 6
♦- K Q J
♣- Q J 7 3.

What do you say?

ANSWER: Bid 3-no trump. If partner has only 16 points, the combined total will be only 25 points, but he should have a responsible play for game even so. If you bid only 2-no trump partner may pass, and you will feel sick about it.

Low Salaries

NEW DELHI (AP) — Government salaries in India range from $533 to $18 a month, the minister of state for home affairs, Vidya Charan, told Parliament.

ALMANAC

Today is Monday, May 18, the 138th day of 1970 with 227 to follow.

The moon is between the first quarter and full phase. The morning stars are Mercury and Saturn. The evening stars are Venus, Mars and Jupiter.

On this day in history:

In 1852, Massachusetts became the first state to pass a law making school attendance compulsory for children between the ages of 8 and 14.

In 1860 Abraham Lincoln was nominated for President by the Republican Party at the Chicago convention.

In 1941 throughout the nation, the first "I Am An American Day" was held, honoring 300,000 aliens who had become U.S. citizens in the past year.

In 1969 Apollo 10, with three astronauts aboard, blasted off for the moon in a rehearsal flight for the first lunar landing.

A thought for the day: Spanish novelist Miguel de Cervantes said, "That's the nature of women. . .not to love when you love them, and to love when we love them not."

CITATION
No. 14780

In the Superior Court of the State of California in and for the City and County of San Francisco.

In the Matter of the Adoption Petition of FRED McELRAVY, Adopting Parent.

TO RICHARD KING SHAY, THE FATHER OF MARCUS AURELIUS SHAY AND ANTHONY ANDRE SHAY, AND TO ANY OTHER PERSON CLAIMING TO BE THE FATHER OF SAID CHILDREN:

YOU ARE HEREBY NOTIFIED that there has been filed in this Court a verified Petition for Adoption by Stepparent for the adoption of Marcus Aurelius Shay and Anthony Andre Shay and alleging that no consent to adoption by the father is necessary by reason of the fact that for a period of more than one year, to wit, since December, 1968, said father Richard King Shay has failed to pay for the care, support and education of the children when able to do so.

YOU ARE HEREBY CITED AND DIRECTED to appear before this Court on June 16, 1970 at 4:00 p.m. in Department One of the above-entitled Court, City Hall, 400 Van Ness Avenue, San Francisco, California, then and there to show cause, if any you have, why said petition for adoption should not be granted.

HOW TO KEEP WELL

By DR. THEODORE R. VAN DELLEN

Doctor Discovers Own Law Of Frustration On The Job

"THE PETER Principle" by Dr. Lawrence J. Peter and Raymond Hull (Bantam Books, New York) is a refreshing commentary on occupational incompetence.

A man does a good job and is promoted, but somewhere along the road to success, he reaches the limits of his ability. According to Peter's Principle, the man tends to rise until he reaches his level of incompetence.

Examples include the efficient mechanic who, with promotion, becomes an imcompetent foreman; or the inspriing and popular classroom teacher who rises to become an ineffective principal.

Medicine enteres the picture because at the incompetence level, the individual becomes frustrated and may develop many psychosomatic symptoms.

THE AUTHORS REFER to Sigmund Freud, famous German neurologist and psychiatrist, who probed the subconscious mind seeking the causes of frustration, anxieties, fears, and other psychosomatic tendencies.

Among working men, Prof. Peter blames incompetence for these symptoms. The individual is promoted beyond his physical, social, emotional, or mental competence.

We have seen this occur to men in various stations of life. Some persons reach their incompetence plateau sooner, whereas others get to the top of the economic ladder before this takes place. Some will view the Peter Principle as a reason why we see so much ineptness in politics, education, labor, business, and the professions.

THE MEDICAL repercussions are of more interest to us since many of the physical disorders we associate with success are, in reality, intertwined with emotions, tensions, and nervousness.

These include peptic ulcers, spastic colitis, hyper-tension, alcoholism obesity, insomnia, migraine, constipation, diarrhea, nausea, excessive sweating, indigestion, and palpitation. Perhaps people with these conditions should take a long look at their last promotion, as it may be the cause of their trouble.

As Prof. Peter says: "Lasting happiness is obtained only by avoiding the ultimate promotion."

(Questions on medical topics will be answered by mail if stamped, self-addressed envelope accompanies request to the I-J.)

NERVOUS BLOTCHES

R. T. Writes: If I become upset, my face and neck get blotchy. Is there any way to prevent this annoying outbreak?

REPLY

Not unless you can learn to control your emotions. Body reactions to excitement and embrassment differ. Some persons show no outward signs of internal tension whereas others blush or develop blotches on the skin.

GARLIC NOT MAGIC

P. B. writes: Is eating garlic healthful or harmful?

REPLY

Neither. Garlic is a herb and its scent lingers on the breath for 24 hours. It has no magical properties and will not prevent disease or purify the blood.

SMILE LINES

P. G. R. writes: Can a furrow along the side of the mouth from smiling too much be removed by plastic surgery?

REPLY

I assume so, but happy people smile so much the lines are likely to return.

TV PREVIEW

Civil War Play Counts As Blessing

NEW YORK (AP) — The National Educational Network on Sunday night transformed the family television set into the closest thing to a stage. It broadcast a 2½-hour production of the 1959 Broadway play "The Andersonville Trial."

It was a stellar revival loaded with important Hollywood names and ran its course without the mood-shattering commercial interruptions that frequently afflict television drama.

The play is set in the post-Civil War period and is the trial and conviction of a Confederate officer charged with war crimes — brutal treatment of Union prisoners in a pest-hole of a prison camp where thousands died.

Its whole viewpoint involves very contemporary dilemmas. Essentially it is a debate about the moral responsibility of the individual to take or refuse to take orders from military superiors.

It was well acted by a big cast that included William Shatner, Richard Basehart, and Jack Cassidy in principal roles. Saul Levitt's play tended, however, to be static and preachy and full of long pronouncements, a trap that can easily beset court-room drama.

However, a drama of ideas is a television rarity, and "The Andersonville Trial" was a blessing to be counted.

Balancing the weekend TV books, there was Saturday night's beauty contest that concluded with the selection of Miss USA. The CBS program, live from Miami, not only had the usual difficulties in turning an exercise in girl watching into something resembling family entertainment but was also plagued by a malfunctioning sound system. Occasionally the voices disappeared, leaving the unwary viewer with the impression that sentences were being blipped out deliberately.

The judges picked a pretty girl from Virginia, Debbie Shelton, but that came after a long period of preliminaries. The girls who look great when parading around in bathing suits and ball gowns have a pretty grim time as entertainers.

A report on an antiwar rally scheduled at Novato High School will be discussed by the Novato Unified School District board at 8 p.m. today in the administration building.

After last Wednesday's demonstration by approximately 100 students, the associated student body at the school started planning a rally of speakers pro and con on the Indochina war. The plans will be presented to the board at tonight's meeting.

Other items to come before the board include: Recommendations on high school graduation requirements; a report on districtwide tests; a Marin County regional occupational center for high school vocational education program and the Novato Teachers Association presentation on salaries for next school year.

Branson Students Set May Fete

Students at Katharine Branson School in Ross will sponsor a May Carnival Friday from 3:30 to 7:30 p.m. on the school's playing field.

Proceeds for the day's activities, to include a potluck dinner at 5:30 p.m. at the field, will be forwarded to the Austin MacCormick House in San Francisco, which is a temporary residence for men released from prison.

The carnival, organized by the Service Chest Committee, will also include student plays, games and arts and crafts booths.

Antiwar Pleas Before Council

The Mill Valley City Council will consider requests by the city's planning and youth commissions to oppose extension of the war into Cambodia when it meets today at 8 p.m. in city hall.

Also to be considered is a request by Cal-Fong Realty to rezone a parcel of land in Alto Bowl to allow construction of 120 garden cottages.

After two weeks of study, the council will consider ratifying a resolution by the Richardson Bay Sanitary District asking the San Francisco Bay Water Quality Control Board to permit agencies discharging sewage into Richardson Bay to set up their own watchdog agency.

Sagging Giants Return To S.F.

SAN DIEGO (AP) — Billy Grabarkewitz is now leading the National League in hitting and that in itself is one of baseball's most incredible stories.

Last year at this time the Los Angeles Dodger infielder was sitting on the bench and playing only occasionally, trying to shake off the pain of a broken ankle from the summer before. His average at the time was a meager .160.

FIFTH MAN

In the spring he was the fifth man in a five-way tussle for third base and only a slow start by the Dodgers gave him the opportunity.

But since getting it he isn't letting go. He lashed two more singles Sunday as Los Angeles buried San Francisco 8-0 to snare three of the four games from the Giants. And "Grabby" is now hitting .420.

"It's all still a little amazing," the happy-go-lucky Grabarkewitz smiled. "Four hundred. Well, at least I don't have a hitting streak to worry about," he added with a grin. "There's more pressure in a hitting streak than anything. I'll take my three or four hits a game and then an 0-for-1."

BATTER .343

Los Angeles, which batted .343 as a team in the series with the Giants, opens a three-game series tonight in San Diego while San Francisco rests before tackling Atlanta Tuesday night at Candlestick Park.

Grabarkewitz had a big hand in Los Angeles' six-run fifth inning Sunday with a single and a run batted in. He also stole a base — one of five by the Dodgers — and scored a run.

Maury Wills, at 37, the old pro, had another big day with three steals and two more singles. Against the Giants in the four games he was 11-for-19 and swiped five bases.

50 STEALS

The five thefts give the Dodgers a team total of 50, tops in the National League.

"I've never been on a team that was loaded with as many guys who can steal bases," little Maury commented afterward. "We really can run and now that we're hitting it's giving us a chance to show our speed."

Almost unnoticed in the 12-hit barrage was Claude Osteen's second shutout of the season. He allowed the Giants only four hits.

"The hitting was great," Dodger Manager Walter Alston said. "But don't forget Osteen did a great job. That's a pretty good hitting club."

FANS FOUR

Osteen fanned four including Willie McCovey twice to square his record at 4-4.

Rich Robertson, 3-3, who gave up a home run to Manny Mota besides bearing the brunt of the big six-run fifth, took the loss.

The Dodgers continued their Sunday bombing, They're now 5-1 on Sundays and have outscored their opponents 47-5.

MEMORIAL DAY RACE

Al Unser Wins Prestige Spot

INDIANAPOLIS, (AP) — It was a good race over the weekend when Al Unser, Johnny Rutherford and A.J. Foyt Jr. made separate 10-mile runs against the clock at the Indianapolis Motor Speedway.

It should be a better one May 30 when they start side-by-side in the front row of the 54th 500-mile race field.

Foyt and Unser finished one-two in the 1967 Indianapolis Motor Classic. But Foyt ran third in Saturday's time trials.

Rutherford, former national sprint car champion, never has finished the 500 in six starts. He never before had a car as good as the Eagle-Offenhauer he'll wheel to the starting line on Memorial Day.

Rutherford had the fastest single lap in Saturday's qualifying session at 171.135 m.p.h. Foyt had the second-best at 171.103 in his Coyte-Ford. But Al Unser was a tick faster for the 10 miles at 170.221 in his Colt-Ford. Rutherford did 170.213, Foyt 170.004.

Slide rule specialists calculated Unser would have beaten Rutherford by one and one-half feet if they had run together.

The difference will be worth about $19,200 to Al and his crew, including special prizes of about $5,000 for his chief mechanic, George Bignotti, who used to be with Foyt. The pole carries a pile of prize money from accessory firms, in addition to $1,200 from the speedway for the day's high run and another $1,000 for best speed over all in the four qualifying sessions which will end next Sunday. Second best each day pays $800.

Foyt, shooting for an unprecedented fourth 500 victory, was not satisfied with the No. 3 starting spot, although the late Jack McGrath contended it was the best place for grabbing the lead and repreatedly proved it.

Mario Andretti, 1969 Speedway champion qualified for the No. 9 starting spot in a Made-In-Germany McNamara-Ford which had been rebuilt hurriedly since he crashed in practice May 11.

The Made-In-England McLarens, rated among the best cars in the field, were qualified by Americans after the team lost its two Grand Prix stars from New Zealand, former world champion Denis Hulme, whose hands were burned in an accident last week, and Chris Amon, who returned to Europe Saturday after failing to reach competitive speed.

Peter Revson, American road racing ace who finished fifth in the 500 last year, qualified the Hulme car Sunday at the day's top speed of 167.942 m.p.h. Speedway veteran Carl Williams qualified the Amon car at a solid 166.590.

Bobby Unser, Al's brother and the 1968 Indianapolis winner, is a third former Speedway champion in the field, starting in the No. 7 spot—inside of the third row—beside Andretti and Jim Malloy.

Veteran Roger McCluskey, only driver except the front threesome to make over 169 m.p.h., will lead the second row on his 169.213. Mark Donohue, rookie of the year in last year's 500 with a seventh-place finish, will start between McCluskey and veteran Art Pollard.

International racer Dan Gurney, runnerup in the last two Indianapolis events, was 11th-fastest qualifier and said simply after he pulled off the windy track, "That's the best I could do today."

Al Unser, who wobbled in the first turn on his run, said "I was pointed right at the wall, but I didn't let up. That's the worst thing you can do—it'll just whip right around on you if you do that."

Bob Veith of Santa Rosa, who has started 11 Indianapolis races, wrecked his Watson-Offenhauser beyond rapair in a practice run Sunday but escaped injury. Sonny Ates of Sellersburg, Ind., also was unhurt in a Saturday crash. Both hit

AN IMPORTANT VICTORY

Bando Plays Lead Role In A's Split With Angels

OAKLAND (AP) — Sal Bando may be the best .235 hitter in baseball today.

The muscular third baseman for the Oakland A's drove in three runs and then scored the winning run as the A's escaped with a split of a double header with the California Angels Sunday.

Bando was hitless in the first game as Oakland lost 7-1, but homered with a man on in the eighth inning of the second game to tie the score 5-5. He then walked and scored the winning run in the 6-5 victory of the 10-inning nightcap.

'BIG WIN'

"It was a big win for us," Bando said afterward. "If we lost, we might never catch up with the Angels and Minnesota Twins."

The split left Oakland 5½ games behind the second-place Angels and six games back of the division leading Twins in the American League West race.

Bando now has driven in 24 runs in 30 games and has 7 home runs among his 22 hits.

"My average shouldn't be as low as it is, but I think it will get higher as the season goes on. I'm driving in runs and that's helping us now," he said.

The A's trailed 5-2 in the second game when Angels' relief pitcher Eddie Fisher, making his second start in two years, left the game after seven innings.

HOMERS

Paul Doyle replaced Fisher and gave up homers to Felipe Alou and Bando in the eighth inning to tie the score.

Oakland scored the winning run against rookie Greg Garrett on four walks in the tenth inning. Bando got the first and moved to second on a sacrifice by Don Mincher. Dave Duncan was given an intentional pass and pinch hitter Bob Pena got an unintentional ose to load the bases.

Garrett then was high with a 3-1 pitch to Bert Campaneris to force in Bando and end the game.

Manager John McNamara of Oakland called the victory "our biggest of the season."

NEEDED IT

"We couldn't afford to lose any more ground to Minnesota. If we lost, we would have been nine games behind in the loss column and it might have taken all summer to catch up," he said.

Lefty Clyde Wright beat the A's in the first game. He has a 5-2 record, a remarkable improvement over his 1-8 mark for 1969. Roger Repoz drove in four runs with a pair of doubles for the Angels. John Odom, the first of six Oakland pitchers, was the looser.

The A's are enroute to Milwaukee today, where they open a two game series with Brewers Tuesday night. Jim Hunter, 5-3, and Chuck Dobson, 3-4, will pitch those games for Oakland.

Terra Linda Swimmers Win Second

Terra Linda High School's class B swimming team, bolstered by freshman sensations Keith Strange and Rick Demont, churned to second place at the North Coast Section finals Saturday at Alameda High School.

The Trojans smashed three school records in running up 105 points, second only to powerful Ygnacio Valley of Concord.

Marin County Athletic League swimmers were among the top six finishers in 12 events. Redwood's Paul Cane had the MCAL's best individual performance, taking a second in the 100-yard breatstroke and a third in the 100-yard individual medley.

VICTORY

Terra Linda won the 200 medley relay in a school record 1:50.3. with the team of Dewey Reid, Jeff Grant, Jim Barton and Strange. In the 400 Free Relay the Trojans placed third, this time with Barton, Reid, Casey Flaherty and Demont. Tamalpais finished fifth and Redwood sixth in that event.

Demont, who like Strange swam the regular season on the Trojan Varsity, shattered the school record for the 400 Free with a time of 4:06.8; good for third place. Jeff Grant supplied the other new mark as he finished fourth in the 50 Fly with a clocking of 26.6.

TANAKA

Cliff Tanaka of Tam placed twice, taking third in the 109 Free and sixth in the 50 free.

Novato's John Summerfield finished fourth in varsity diving, the only MCAL contestant to place in that division.

Redwood's "B" team placed ninth with 52 points, and Tam took 12th with 44.

Bee Kilgore 2nd In Doubles Play

Bee Kilgore, 14, of Tiburon and 12-year-old Susan Nehmedbasich of El Cerrito were runners up in the age 16 and under doubles division at the 23rd annual Palo Alto Junior Hardcourt Tennis Tournament which ended yesterday.

Misses Kilgore and Nehmedbasich lost in the finals to Ann Kiyomura of San Mateo and Brenda Garcia of Orinda, 6-3, 6-3.

Two other Marin County players were eliminated in semifinals. Lissy Manheim, 16, of Tiburon, playing her first tournament of the season, upset No. 1 seeded Jocelyn Grimm of Stockton in the grils 18 quarter-finals but was finally eliminated by No. 2 seed Patty Polenske of Lodi in the semis. Dan Tierney, 14, also of Tiburon, lost in the semis to Jeff Robinson of Los Altos.

Blancas Makes Use Of Trevino Tips

FORT WORTH, Tex. (AP) — Lee Trevino is going to have to start being more judicious with his lessons—particularly to a "brother" like Homero Blancas who cashed a Trevino tip into the National Invitational Golf Championship Sunday.

"I never thought I'd get beaten by another Mexican," Trevino laughed. "The lesson I gave Homer only cost me $12,000. I won't charge him though, he's one of the brothers."

Blancas, a 32-year-old former University of Houston star, charged home with a three-under-par 67 Sunday to win the NIT with a 72-hole total of 273—one shot ahead of Gene Littler and Trevino, the peppery former U.S. Open king.

A TIP

Trevino noticed something wrong with Blancas' swing Friday morning.

"I told him he should move through the ball faster from the waist down," Treivno said.

Blancas said the tip helped him hit a slight fade off the tee instead of a pull hook.

"I just started turning my hips more and began hitting the ball more solid," said Blancas, who immediately went out that day and shot a 68 over the Colonial Country Club course.

Using the tip, Blancas pocketed the $25,000 first prize for his greatest payday as a professional.

Littler and Trevino won $11,575 each.

NO CHANCE

"I'm very proud of him," said fellow-Texan Trevino who seemed almost as happy as if he had won.

"Two Mexicans against one white man? That poor Gene Littler never had a chance," Trevino said.

Littler and Trevino both missed chances to send the tournament into sudden death after Blancas bogeyed the last hole. Trevino's 20-footer and Littler's 12-footer both slid past the hole after it appeared both putts would fall.

Blancas, who trailed Trevino by a shot when the day's play began, turned the tournament around on the 16th hole, a 200-yard par 3, when he holed a 35-foot chip with a wedge for a birdie. At the same time Trevino bogeyed the par-4 fifteenth.

FINAL 67

Littler shot a final round 67 and Trevino a 69.

The jubilant Blancas lingered long after the tournament in the press room, sipping champagne.

"I'm supposed to be in Atlanta this week, but the way things are going I might not make it until Thursday," he giggled. Blancas last won a tournament in 1966 at Seattle.

But Trevino, as usual, had the last word: "We ain't never had a mexican winner and a Mexican runnerup."

Levin Pulls Surprise In Tiburon Tourney

Unseeded John Levin of Stanford came out of nowhere with three wins to gain a semifinal berth in the 73rd Bay Counties Tennis Championships yesterday at the Tiburon Peninsula Tennis Club.

Levin, who will join Whitney Reed, Robyn Ray and Bobby Siska in the semifinals Saturday, claimed victories in straight sets over Gil Howard, Larry Dodge and Tom Kiss.

Bob Knight and Andy Walker, the first and second singles players for Redwood High School's undefeated team, were the only Marin County entrants to survive the opening round.

Knight, who was defeated in the third round by Siska, 6-3, 6-2, won his first two matches from Gary Rose, by default, and Glen Grisillo, 3-6, 6-4, 6-4.

Walker defeated Chip Fisher by default before losing to Kiss, 6-3, 5-7, 6-4.

Novato Wins Lacrosse Final

Novato's powerful lacrosse team got three goals from Bob Larson yesterday to Smash San Rafael, 11-1 in a Northern California Lacrosse Association match at Novato.

It was the last game of the season for Novato, which has scored 77 goals this year while holding opponents to 18.

Marin County's Latter Day Saints lost to San Francisco yesterday, 7-4 in San Francisco.

Mill Valley Golf

Babe Balati shot a low gross 75 to win the President's Day trophy at the Mill Valley Golf Course yesterday. Balati, who had a net 57, was followed by George Davenport, 77-17-60, and Pete Pantages, 84-23-61.

the retaining wall but missed other cars.

Six spots remain open in the 33-car starting field with 13 hours of qualifications left next weekend.

Entrants who still hope to make the field after assorted mechanical troubles include Carlos Pairetti, the Argentina champion; Kevin Bartlett of Australia, and veteran Lloyd Ruby of Wichita Falls, Tex.

Ruby has had five engines fall apart in the last two weeks, three of them Sunday with burned pistons. He had been running laps at more than 169 m.p.h.

There are only three Speedway rookies among the first 27 qualifiers, Allison, Tony Adamowicz of Torrance, Calif., and Steve Kirisloff of Parsippany, N.J., all veterans of other tracks.

Hub Softballers Split Doubleheader

Sohner Tree Service softballers of San Anselmo split a doubleheader in Hayward Saturday night, losing 3-2 and winning 8-0 against Hayward.

Jess Munyon was the losing hurler in the first game and Morey Swarm tossed a three-hitter for Sohner's win. John Brookman, Ron Blum, Art Donati and Swarm each had three hits for Sohner.

Philadelphia pitcher Joe Hoerner is co-owner of St. Louis travel agency. His former teammate, shortstop Dal Maxvill of the Cardinals, is a partner.

Oregon Trackmen Give UCLA Scare

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Oregon's game track team came south in a histile—i.e., warm—environment and nearly accomplished the impossible: defeating UCLA in the Pacific - 8 track championships.

The Bruins, however, scored 43 points in the final three events after Oregon had built up a seemingly insurmountable lead. The final result gave UCLA 111 points to 102 points for Oregon. The Ducks get another chance at glory in one month, however, in the national collegiate finals at Drake University.

UCLA's victory Saturday, in 80-degree heat, was a combination of the Bruins' middle distonce efforts, two relay teams and some vertical jumping of superb timing.

With three events to go, the Ducks had a 94-68 edge on UCLA. Ducks were jumping around as if they had won. But they didn't figure on the jumpers and the UCLA middle distance crew of Jim Bush, who later admitted, "I thought we were dead."

Hal Greenwood and Steve Lang of the Bruins both cleared 6 feet 10 inches in the high jump for a combined 13 points. Then UCLA's Jon Vaughn won the pole vault at 16-6 and teammates Jeff Sakala and Bruce Simpson both cleared 16-0. That left it up to the mile relay team, which only needed a fifth to clinch the meet.

Wayne Collett, however, anchored the Bruins with a 45.2 quarter and the 3:07.1 victory gave UCLA a comfortable nine-point margin.

In this meet, Oregon freshman Steve Prefontaine easily won the three-mile in 13:27.8. He'd live to run a longer race but there wasn't one. In the NCAA championships there will be a three mile and a six mile, giving Bowerman places where his talented runners can run.

The 1970 Pac-8 meet had more than it's share of thrills:

- Allen Meredith of Stanford soared to a lifetmie best and a Pac-8 meet record of 52-3 in the triple jump.

- Washington State's Rick Riley came from 10-yards off the pace to nip Oregon's Roscoe Divine at the wire in the year's first sub-four-minute mile, 3:59.2.

- Collett, running his easiest 440 intermediate hurdle race of the year and still equalling the meet mark of 50.6.

- Eddie Hart of California leading teammate Isaac Curtis to the tape in the 100 as both clocked 9.4.

- Once-maligned Willie Turner of Oregon State coming through with his greatest race of the year by turning Hart back in the 220 for a 20.4 victory and another meet record.

- Art Sandison, Washington State's favored half miler, holding off two Oregon State challengers at the tape to run 1:48.2.

- Cal's 440 relay team taking advantage of a poor UCLA pass to defeat the Bruins in 39.8.

Kick Clinic Attracts 40 Players

More than 40 boys from 15 Northern California high schools gathered at San Rafael High School Saturday for the second annual Tovani place-kicking clinic.

Directed by its originator, one time Oakland Raider place-kicking specialist Gordon Tovani of San Rafael, the day-long event consisted of 11 agility drills for field goal units. Each unit was composed of a center, holder, kicker and coach.

The drills, which were explained in a color movie shown in the gym that morning, included blindfolded kicking, kicking for speed and accuracy, and kicking from different areas on the field.

Professional stars Wayne Hawkins of the Oakland Raiders and Mike Murcer of the Green Bay Packers were on hand to give advice and demonstrations.

Kicking units from seven Marin County high schools attended the clinic, and the unit from Drake, led by kicker John Loane, was awarded the trophy for best overall performance.

San Rafael coach Bob Muster summed up the mood of the day. "Any time you can get guys like Murcer and Hawkins to come out and get the kids thinking football, it's a good thing," he said.

Petaluma Swimmers Second

Petaluma Swim Club, led by double winner Laura DuMont, picked up nine first places to finish second behind the powerful Santa Clara Swim Club Saturday and Sunday in the San Rafael Swim Club Invitational Class A Meet at College of Marin pool in Kentfield.

Santa Clara piled up 458 points to Petaluma's 217. Host San Rafael had 208½. Approximately 400 youngsters from 25 clubs competed, including the Tamalpais, Marin, Dolphins of Marin, Novato Aquanauts and Hamilton Voodoo swim clubs.

Petaluma's Miss DuMont, competing in 10 and under class, won the 50-yard fly in 36.6 seconds and the 100 free in 1:11.4. Her sister Maura, competing in the same class, won the 100 fly in 1:24.9.

Other winners from local clubs:

Petaluma — Carrie Curtis, 10 and under, 50 breast, 41.8; Arthur Morrill, 13-14, 100 breast, 1:13.3; Nancy Schonback, 13-14, 100 breast, 1:18.9; Sue Venema, 15-17, 200 back, 2:35.3; David Nelson, 10 and under, 100 fly, 1:17.6; Natalie Ghirado 8 and under, 25 back, 18.6.

Koss Supply, now 8-3, took the second game 10-2.

Sacramento State Wins In Track; Sonoma Last

ROHNERT PARK (AP) — Sacramento State has retained its Far Western Conference track and field championship for a second year but needed a victory in the final event, the pole vault, to repulse Hayward State's challenge.

Tom Wunschel, who holds the conference vault record of 15-6, won the 10 first-place points for Sacramento State by clearing 15-3, but then missed at 15-9.

Sacramento State's 440-yard relay team set a conference record of 41.4 seconds — one-tenth of a second faster than Sacramento State's 1969 effort.

When the two-day meet ended Saturday at Sonoma State, Sacramento State had 123 points to Hayward's 116. Chico State was third with 98, followed by UC Davis 94, Humboldt 62, San Francisco State 58 and Sonoma 5.

BOWLING TIPS

By DON CARTER

When selecting your bowling ball, be certain that the person who measures your hand is a real pro.

Ironically, a properly fitted ball will not always feel perfectly comfortable at the start. This is because you may have become accustomed to a ball that is not really suited to your hand.

BASEBALL ROUNDUP

No. 3,000 For Aaron

By ASSOCIATED PRESS

Atlanta's Hank Aaron has shaken his shadow but unfortunately for the Braves, the Cincinnati Reds seem intent on losing their tail, too.

Aaron cracked the cherished 3,000-hit plateau Sunday, stroking a run-scoring single for the historic blow and following that with his 570th career homer against the Reds in the second game of a doubleheader.

SPOIL PARTY

All that was very nice for Aaron and Stan Musial, the last man to reach 3,000 hits, who was following Hank to make a formal presentation of the historic ball. Now Musial can go home to St. Louis. But the Braves spoiled the party by forgetting to win either game of the doubleheader.

Cincinnati's 5-1, 7-6 sweep enabled the Reds to open a fat six-game bulge in the National League's West Division race. And the frustrated Braves, who picked up only two games on the Reds while winning 11 straight earlier this month, slipped to third place, seven lengths behind.

Elsewhere in the National League Sunday, Montreal outlasted Pittsburgh 8-7, Los Angeles blanked San Francisco 8-0, St. Louis edged Chicago 4-3 and San Diego dropped Houston 5-3. New York at Philadelphia was rained out.

A.L. SCORES

In the American League, Minnesota defeated Milwaukee 6-1, Kansas City swept a doubleheader from Chicago in 10 innings and 8-4 in 11, and California split a pair with Oakland, winning 7-1 before a 6-5 10-inning loss.

Baltimore at Washington, Detroit at New York and Cleveland at Boston all were rained out.

Musial was assigned to follow Aaron until the 3,000-mark was reached—a job that didn't take long. After going hitless in the first game against the Reds, Aaron's RBI-single in the first inning of the nightcap made him the ninth major leaguer to reach 3,000.

The game was held up for a formal ceremony in which Musial and William Bartholomay, president of the Braves, presented Aaron with the historic ball. Then play was resumed—a definite mistake for the Braves.

SEVEN-HITTER

Jim Merritt had stopped Atlanta on seven hits in the opener, became the first eight-game winner in the majors this year. Pete Rose and Tony Perez cracked homers to make Merritt's task easier.

Then, after squandering an early lead built on Aaron's hitting in the nightcap, the Braves scored three runs in the top of the 10th with the help of errors by Darrel Chaney and Perez. But the Reds struck right back, tying the score on consecutive homers by Johnny Bench and Lee May.

It stayed 6-6 until the 15th when reliever Don Gullett poked a game-winning single, scoring Dave Concepcion who had singled and moved up on a sacrifice.

Bobby Wine and Mack Jones cracked sixth-inning homers breaking a tie and moving Montreal past Pittsburgh. Rusty Staub also homered for the Expos, who blew a 4-0 lead before bouncing back.

WINNING RUN

Vic Davalillo's pinch triple tied the game and moments later a pinch single by Leron Lee scored Davalillo with the winning run as the Cardinals topped Chicago.

Ferguson Jenkins was riding a 3-2 lead into the seventh when Joe Torre opened with a single. Two outs later, Davalillo tripled Torre home with the tying run and then Lee delivered another hit for the winner.

Ivan Murrell smacked three hits, driving in three runs and Chris Cannizzaro and Steve Huntz tagged homers leading San Diego over Houston.

Joe Pepitone and Joe Morgan homered for the Astros but Ron Herbel choked off a late Houston threat, earning his sixth save and protecting Mike Corkins' third straight victory.

Pacers Take 2-0 Lead In Playoffs

ANAHEIM, Calif. (AP) — "I don't care how, where or when we win four—but I won't be too happy until we do," said Indiana Coach Bob Leonard after the Pacers took the second consecutive game from the Los Angeles Stars in the American Basketball Association's best-of-seven playoffs.

The teams return to action tonight at the Anaheim Convention Center after playing the first two games at Indianapolis. The Pacers came from behind to win 114-111 Sunday after taking Friday night's opener 109-93.

Bob Netolicky, whom Leonard took out of the game in the third quarter after he totaled four fouls and not enough points, saved Sunday's game for the Pacers when he came through with two free throws with six seconds left.

Big Mel Daniels of Indiana led the game's scoring with 31 points. And he grabbed 27 rebounds before he was knocked down, hard, under the Stars' basket with six seconds to go. He stayed down quite a while before he got up to a standing ovation.

The world champion New York Mets failed to hit one home run in their first seven games this spring. All the other clubs had hit at least one and Henry Aaron of Atlanta had four of them.

THIS DAY IN SPORTS

MAY 18, 1920
MAN O'WAR, MAKING HIS DEBUT AS A THREE-YEAR-OLD, WON THE PREAKNESS STAKES AS HE BEAT UPSET... THE ONLY HORSE EVER TO DEFEAT HIM IN HIS 21-RACE CAREER. (1919-1920)

Preakness Win Is For Jacobs

BALTIMORE (AP) — The late Hirsch Jacobs, patriarch of a famous racing family, trained a world record 3,596 winners during a storied career. Incredibly, he never scored in a Triple Crown event.

But Jacobs, who died Feb. 13, received all the credit Saturday when Personality, a colt he adored, won the $203,800 Preakness at Pimlico by a neck over fast-closing My Dad George.

John Jacobs, 35, quickly tossed aside accolades for accomplishing "something your father never did."

"He did achieve it," Jacobs said, tears welling in his eyes. "He bred him. In fact, he bred Personality's sire and dam, we raced both of his grand-dams, and we even bred one of this colt's great-grand-dams. So this line goes back four generations."

Eddie Belmonte, in his first Preakness start, took the lead from Silent Screen in the stretch of the 1 3-16 mile race and then barely held off the late bid of my Dad George—who had finished five lengths behind winner Dust Commander in the Derby.

Dust commander was in position to make a winning drive again Saturday but jockey Mike Manganello reported his mount "just floundered" after starting to make his run.

SUCCESSFUL INVESTING

Holdings For College Still Worth Keeping

By ROGER E. SPEAR

Q. On professional advice we bought Transamerica Corp. in 1968. The investment was to be held about a year when the money was to be used for our children's college education. We have lost half our money. Do you think there is a chance for recovery? — C.J.

A. An numerous occasions I have warned that investing against a time limit is fraught with risk; your unhappy experience illustrates why. Your situation has one redeeming feature: Transamerica has an above-average growth outlook over the next several years. A 2 per cent stock dividend will be distributed in June, the second such payment since your initial purchases. In spite of lower first-quarter earnings Transamerica's cash payout was raised for the ninth consecutive year. A strong performance in the March quarter by its insurance subsidiary helped to offset reduced earnings from leisure time, lending and real-estate operations.

Transamerica is building a multimarket service organization with interests in life insurance, real estate development, travel, motion picture financing and distribution and mobile home park development. While a temporary setback has resulted from high interest rates, recovery should parallel a stock market turnaround.

Q. I am surprised at the sharp drop in share price that follows a report of lower company earnings. I had thought that poorer profits, which are proof of the success of the Administration's anti-inflation strategy, would produce a more favorable market reaction. Please unpuzzle me. — C.J.

A. The sharp market drop, which began early in December, has been a reaction to more than just declining earnings. On that score, however, reports of lower profits have prompted many fund managers to liquidate or at least lighten positions. A sharp drop in share price is the usual aftermath of an influx of these large block sales.

With most issues already selling at severely depressed levels, an additional few point drop is all that is needed to trigger action from margined investors forced to either cover or sell. After a protracted bear market any adverse corporate development can set off a chain reaction that is unrelated to the total picture.

Q. I am a widow with $15,000 in savings certificates, $10,000 in TVA bonds and $11,000 in passbook savings. Because I worry about "emergency funds," I have left the $11,000 as is. Could I do something more constructive with it? — B.B.

A. In your situation, safety of principal is an important factor. For this reason I hesitate to recommend a common stock. However, at recent low levels, a commitment in a high-yielding, West Coast utility stock would be wise as an inflation hedge. Pacific Lighting, selling at around 25 to yield 6.4 per cent has considerable appeal as a low-risk income stock. A high-yield corporation bond, such as A-rated Crown Zellerbach 8 7/8s of 2080, would also fit your needs. This bond is call-protected and is selling at a premium to yield 8.78 per cent.

Stock Market Gains After Earlier Slump

NEW YORK (AP) — The stock market carved out a slender lead late this afternoon, after a mixed performance earlier in the session.

At 2 p.m. the Dow Jones average of 30 industrials was ahead 1.58 at 703.80, the high for the session. The blue-chip indicator had been off 1.26 at 11 a.m., the low for the session.

Winning issues on the New York Stock Exchange held more than a 3-to-2 advantage over losers. The winners had been on top for the entire session, although their lead dwindled late in the morning session.

Analysts said that while the market had failed so far to sustain the momentum of Friday's sharp rally, the market's performance could be positive. They said it could be in the process of building a base from which to stage a recovery.

Airlines, building materials and utilities were generally higher. Motors were lower.

Benguet was off 1⅛ at 57⅜. A source close to the company blamed the stocks decline on a negative magazine article on the tourist industry in the Bahamas. Benguet has a stake in Bahamas tourism.

Prices on the Big Board's most-active list included Polaroid, off 2¼ at 73⅛; General Electric, up ⅞ at 67½; Continental Oil, up ⅝ at 21¾; and Ford off ½ at 41.

Prices on the American Stock Exchange's most-active list included Teleprompter, up 3½ at 64; Vikoa, up 2 at 8¾; and Nortek, off 1⅛ at 12⅛.

Three-Phase Project Readied For San Marin Area In Novato

Last September, Standard Growth Properties, Inc. of Portland purchased about 184 acres of Sunset-Petroleum's properties in San Marin and is now ready to set about developing some of them.

First phase in the development, which is being managed by United Real Estate Corp. of San Francisco, will be an 18-acre professional office building, shopping center and apartment cluster at San Marin and San Andreas drives. The work includes three separate projects: Three acres for the office building, seven acres for the shopping center and the remaining eight for the apartments.

Construction on the professional building is scheduled to begin next month, though at this writing no general contractor had been appointed. But Robert Goetz Associates is the architectural firm; John Hill and Associates, Novato the engineering firm; and Argus Real Estate Co. of Novato will handle the leasing of all commercial units.

Completion of the professional building is set for September. The site includes a 136-car parking lot.

The rest of the acreage purchased is located about 2.5 miles east, at the juncture of Highway 101 and San Marin Drive. Future plans here include a 20-acre office, park and regional shopping center, multiple apartment development and a motel. Construction on these phases may start within the next 12 months, with completion as far as five years away.

Three other new models are planned for an early opening. Kenny has a total of 113 lots at Terra Linda Highlands. Sales office is at the corner of Lea Drive and Fowler Court.

THE PACIFIC COAST BUILDERS CONFERENCE will hold its 12th annual program at the Fairmont Hotel in San Francisco June 3, 4 and 5. A record gathering of 5,000 persons is expected to attend, including many builders from Marin. Some 125 exhibitors will display their products and services.
